'Resort' Listing Same As Emergency Fire Number

By BOB RAPIDA

Taxpayers of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District are paying for the classified listings of Marsh Creek Lodge in the telephone directory and have been doing so for the last five years, The Sun discovered this week.

After an investigation, The Sun learned that amounts ranging from $9 to $12 have been paid by the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District, School Street, Moraga, since 1953.

THESE AMOUNTS have been paid for classified listings in the "Yellow Pages" of the Contra Costa Directory for advertisements under "Cocktail Lounges," "Banquet Rooms," "Restaurants," "Resorts" and "Motels" according to Howard McNamer, county auditor.

A conservative figure to use, according to McNamer's records, would be $648 as a total amount of money expended by the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District for classified listing in telephone directories for Marsh Creek Lodge.

The East Contra Costa Fire District includes the Moraga area and borders the Mt. Diablo, Central, Lafayette and Orinda Fire Districts.

THE EMERGENCY telephone number of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District is MUlberry 2-9733. The telephone number of Marsh Creek Lodge is also MUlberry 2-9733.

The resort-restaurant and cocktail lounge is owned and operated by Gerould L. Gill, commissioner and fire chief of the fire district.

Records of County Auditor McNamer show that the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District during October, 1958, was billed for services and equipment, $35.45; for 675 message units, $28.69; $8.20 for toll calls, and $10.25 for directory listing. The total bill was over $82.

Gill is listed in the white pages of the directory as Gerould L. Gill, Marsh Creek Lodge, MU 2-9733. This is the same number as the emergency fire listing. The fire district is listed in the white pages and on the emergency phone number page of the telephone directory.

GILL HAS ONE other listing in the telephone directory which appears in conjunction with the fire number. The fire district, however, is not listed by itself in the classified or "yellow pages" of the directory.

Gill's personal listing in the telephone directory is under the fire district's telephone number, The Sun was informed.

Following The Sun's disclosures, John A. Nejedly, district attorney; McNamer, and Joseph Connery, county administrator's office, stated there would be an immediate investigation into the operation and administration of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District.

Although the fire protection district is paying the tab for the classified advertising listing of Marsh Creek Lodge, Gill is repaying the county "for personal telephone calls," McNamer stated.

McNamer informed The Sun, that some six or eight months ago, the county auditor's office discovered that telephone accounts could not be "rectified" since the Gill telephone number and the fire number were the same.

GILL SINCE that time has been making an adjustment on the telephone bill payable to the fire district, said McNamer.

According to McNamer's records, Gill Repayed $7.40 to the fire district during the month of October.

"In effect," McNamer stated, "the fire district is subsidizing Gill's telephone equipment by paying for basic service charges of the telephone company."

McNamer explained that Gill marks what personal calls he makes on MU 2-9733 and pays for these calls.

The Sun, with McNamer's cooperation, compared bills of the Marsh Creek Station with the Moraga Station of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District.

THE MORAGA STATION of the fire district paid some $18 for service during the month of October.

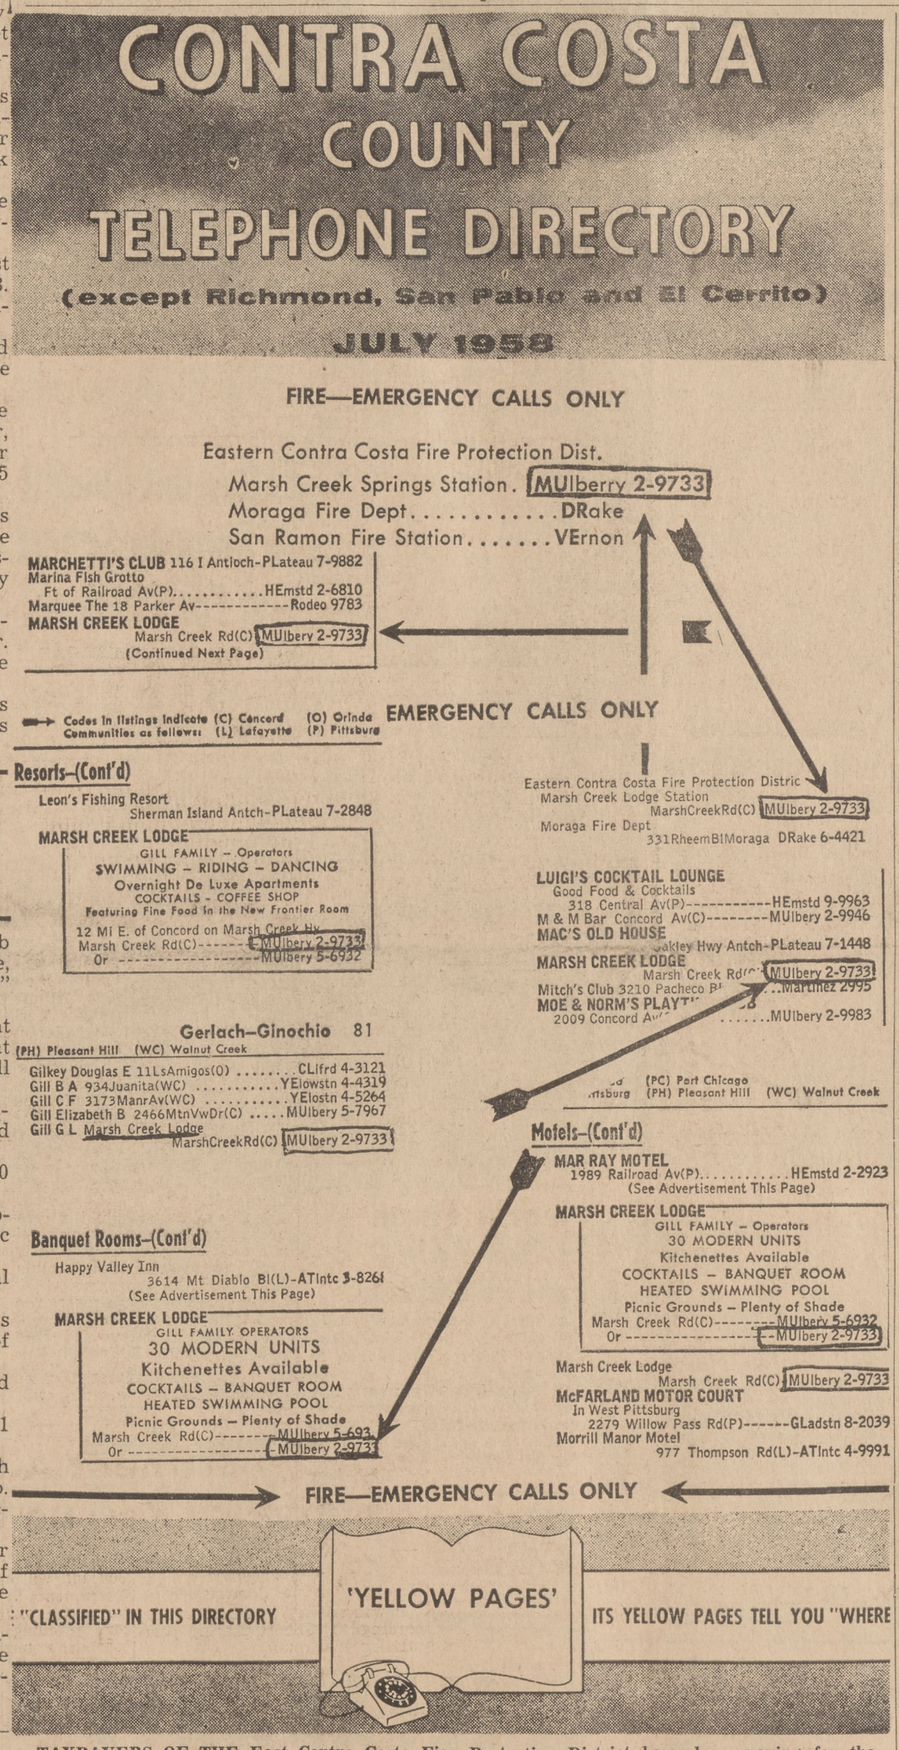

The breakdown was service and equipment, $6.75; 351 message units, $11.30, and no toll calls.

The toll calls on the MU 2-9733 bill were made to such places as Antioch, Crockett, Pittsburg and Port Chicago. The greatest number of calls were placed to Martinez, according to McNamer's records.

Although no law specifies that a fire district number be used only for fires, The Sun learned that the Board of Fire Underwriters highly recommends that fire lines be used only in emergencies.

BUSINESS LISTINGS are used by the Orinda, Central, Lafayette and Mt. Diablo Fire Districts for routine calls. The fire number in those districts is used only to report a fire.

The arrows point to Marsh Creek Lodge's telephone number which is the same as the emergency number of the fire protection district.

Supervisor Seeks Removal Of Moraga from District

Supervisor Mel F. Neilsen informed The Sun yesterday he will seek to have the Moraga area of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District annexed to either the Lafayette or Orinda Fire Districts.

In an interview with The Sun, Nielsen pointed out that taxpayers in the Moraga area would have their taxes increased "without increase of service, if a proposal of District Commissioner and Fire Chief Gerould L. Gill is approved by the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors.

GILL HAS proposed that the fire district be split into two tax zones. Moraga residents would pay more, Nielsen said, because it costs more to operate the residential service required in the Moraga area than the service needed in the rural eastern end of the county.

The East Contra Costa Fire Protection District is in the Second and Fourth Supervisorial districts and borders the Mt. Diablo, Central, Lafayette and Orinda Districts.

Nielsen stated that he would favor the annexation of the Moraga district to Lafayette or Orinda, rather than approve the splitting of the district into two taxing zones.

NEILSEN NOTED, however, that the rural tax rate would be lowered by the split into two sectors.

The supervisor commented that in his opinion he would favor the annexation of the Moraga area into the Orinda Fire Protection District since that district is under a 1921 act making commissioners appointive by the County Board of Supervisors.

Nielsen stated that in this way, the board becomes a "watch dog" over the actions of the commissioners.

The Lafayette district is formed under an 1883 law which makes the commissioners autonomous.

THE SUN learned that should the Moraga area be annexed to either Lafayette or Orinda fire protection districts, there would be an increase in the tax rate.

"Even though there would be a tax increase, I am quite certain that the people would enjoy a cut in insurance rates, because of the more effective fire protection in the area," Nielsen stated.

"I have become very concerned over the administration of the fire district during the past few months. I am elected to take care of the people in my district and, at present, I do not feel they are getting adequate fire protection service from the East County district," Nielsen stated.

Telephone Listing Explanation Made By Commissioner

"People seem to find little things to pick on, but forget all the good a person does for the taxpayer."

So spoke Gerould L. Gill, fire chief and commissioner of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District, when asked by The Sun why taxpayers of the district are paying for classified advertising listings for Gill's Marsh Creek Lodge.

"I WASN'T AWARE that our listings were in the classified directory and were being billed to the fire district, I'll certainly call the telephone company and have that matter taken care of," Gill continued.

Gill explained why the telephone number of his Marsh Creek Lodge and the emergency number of the district are the same.

"Marsh Creek Lodge had the number first and when the fire

White Moccasin Clue in Mystery Of Skeleton Find

Discovery of a white moccasin shoe near the spot where a female human being's skeleton was found in Wildcat Canyon near Orinda today added a fresh clue to the pile of evidence authorities were checking, weighing and checking again.

The skeleton was discovered in the wilderness recesses of the remote canyon January 7.

Tentatively, said Sheriff Walter Young, it has been identified as the body of Mrs. Myrtle Thompson, former Oakland woman who under circumstances plaguy to detectives disappeared about two years ago from Sacramento.

The tentative identification from dental work was made by Mrs. Bertha Robinson, Oakland, who said the dead woman may have been her daughter.

Orindan Verges On Hysteria at Death Hearing

His underlip trembling slightly, John B. Burrow, 37, 5 Hampton Road, Orinda, yesterday heard himself charged with manslaughter because of a friend's death.

The friend, Bruce Francis Batt, 18, San Pablo, died quickly after being stuck in the heart by a .22-caliber bullet at the back door of the Orinda residence.

District Attorney John Nejedly said the shot was fired by a rifle in the hands of Burrow as he struggled with Batt as part of what Sheriff's Detective Charles Myhre called "a lot of childish horseplay."

Burrow was arraigned in Walnut Creek Justice Court before Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn.

She released him on his recognizance.

Jaycees Arrange Banquet For Sun '58 Man Of Year

Perc Brown, the Orinda Sun's 1958 Man of the Year, will be honored January 28 at a banquet in the Orinda Willows, sponsored by the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Eric Nielsen, Jaycee president, this week said that any Orinda bona-fide organizations may also take this opportunity to honor any individual or group on individuals in Orinda.

In a letter addressed to the residents, he said, "I am inviting you to use this occasion to make any awards or presentations that your organization may wish to make to any individual or group of individuals in Orinda.

"You may, for example, wish to honor a member or teacher or fireman for outstanding civic service based on your won standards.

"This should, of course, in no way conflict with regular internal awards you may normally present, such as presenting a gift to an outgoing president, or the like," Nielsen said.

Any resident of the area may secure tickets by contacting Nielsen, Harry Fledderman, Tom Hayes or George Krusi, he said.

Nielsen began his letter by saying, "As you know, for several years the Orinda Sun has asked several prominent local citizens to serve as a committee to select this individual so The Sun and our community could pay him the honor he is due.

"We admire The Sun's interest in this project, and this year we decided to sponsor a banquet to permit interested persons to congratulate and properly honor this person.

"We, as you, are sincerely interested in maintaining and improving Orinda, and feel that this project will help enhance interest in community service."

Committee Names New Officers, Assignments

A fund raising committee is laying the ground work for a community pool at Miramonte High School in Orinda.

The pool will be used as a community pool by adults and children on weekends during school and daily during summer vacation. It is the aim of the committee to raise $25,000 and the balance will be contributed by the Acalanes School District.

It is the hope and aim for this pool to open this summer. The amount contributed by Acalanes School District will not detract from any other activity, as they have funds set aside for this specific purpose, members said.

Miramonte High School presently is the only school without a pool. This would provide facilities for a Miramonte swim team as well as physical education swim programs. This will also provide Red Cross, life saving and numerous other community interests.

Preliminary surveys of residents in Orinda, Moraga and Canyon, show that there is genuine support for this drive.

Some of the committee members participating are Jim Dana, general chairman; Mrs. R. R. (Billie) Bowles, co-chairman; Mrs. Arthur N. (Katie) Flint, secretary; Merle Brown, treasurer.

Student participation, Vickie McCosker, Diane Traverso and Mike Wimar.

Assisting Dr. Webster as fund drive chairman will be Harold Caldwell and Colman Huntley. Acting in an advisory capacity is Miramonte Principal Jim Lewis, Dr. Ralph Hall, Frank Isola, Ted Boyce, Wayne Dalzell and Odie Monahan.

Mel Arighi is representing the Parents Club.

'Senior' Parents Hold Meeting

"Senior" parents of the Miramonte Parents Club met Monday in the school cafeteria.

The "Senior All-Night" was discussed. The club's next regular meeting will be February 9 at 8 p.m.

Virus Outbreak Rumors Denied By Health Depts.

Rumors that virus infections were spreading in central county schools were flatly discounted by health authorities yesterday.

In a routine check of county and school district health departments, The Sun learned that absenteeism in schools is "normal" for this time of the year.

One school nurse stated that most pupils were out either because of colds or upset stomach ailments.

The Lafayette, Orinda, Mt. Diablo, Walnut Creek and Acalanes School Districts were asked concerning the virus outbreak. All concurred that absenteeism and causes for absenteeism, according to their records, were normal.

Fire Department Adds Emergency Rescue Unit

Delivery of a Rescue Unit truck has been accepted by Orinda Fire District Commissioners.

It was ordered last October, according to Gilbert Earle, commission chairman.

Firemen will install special racks and equipment in the rescue unit and it will be ready for use in another 30 days, Earle said.

Purchase of the unit was made by the County Purchasing Department.

"THIS EQUIPMENT is not an ambulance, but will be used for various types of rescue and life saving," Earle said. "The Fire Department will not provide ambulance transport service for sick, bedridden or disabled persons who need to be moved from one location to another. These requirements must be met by a regular ambulance service."

Need for the rescue unit, Earle said, is indicated by the fact that calls to the Orinda Fire Department for emergency aid at present outnumber fire calls about five to one.

"This function of the department has grown continuously over the past years," Earle commented, "and due to the increasing population of the Orinda Fire District, the Board of Fire Commissioners feels that a specialized piece of equipment is justified for this purpose.

"UP TO NOW, these emergency calls have been answered by using a fire truck or the chief's car."

Earle pointed out that with three strategically-located fire stations, prompt service is available by dispatching equipment closest to the scene.

The rescue unit will be stationed at Station No. 1. Emergency calls would be answered by equipment with resuscitator and first aid materials from the nearest station; if the call originates from Station No. 2 or No. 3, the rescue unit will follow up, and the first unit answering the call will return to the station.

IN ADDITION to a resuscitator and first aid materials, the rescue unit will carry some surgical instruments to be used by a doctor, extra oxygen supplies, tools for rescuing victims, cutting torches, a gurney and stretchers.

"The doctors of Orinda have estimated a panel of several who are available for emergency calls," Earle said, "and the department always attempts to call a doctor to the scene if the victim's family has not already called one."

"If the doctor believes an ambulance is required, the department can call one of the established ambulance services."

When the rescue unit goes into operation, Earle stressed, scope of services provided by the Fire Department will not be changed.

The rescue unit is a special piece of equipment which makes it possible for the department to be more versatile and do a better job, and at the same time not tie up a fire rig which may be needed elsewhere," Earle said.

Orindan Ordered To Pay $1600 For Repatriation

Paul Kops, 150 La Espiral, Orinda, must repay the government some $1600 for passage home from a Japanese prisoner of war camp in Shanghai, China, during World War II.

Kops was ordered to repay the money by Federal Court Judge Lloyd H. Burke who upheld a federal collection order.

Kops signed a promissory note for the money to secure passage aboard a Swedish motorship in 1943. The note was for his and his family's passage to the United States.

Kops has maintained that he was forced to sign the note since he had no other choice. He charged coercion, but the federal court judge stated that Kops must make repayment of the money.

Nichols Pays Overdrawn Cash -- $353

Edward Nichols' check for $353.73 received this week, halted District Attorney John Nejedly's preparations to take legal action, regarding the $1578.80 which Contra Costa Housing Authority commissioners had overdrawn for expenses.

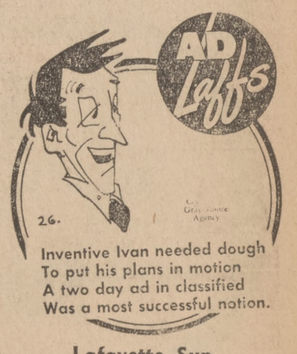

Before that Commission Chairman Gerould Gill had paid back $223.38, and ex-Commissioner James Wood $415.21.

Only last week, the County Grand Jury had instructed District Attorney Nejedly to take action in the event that two of the three men did not pay their overdrawn accounts plus interest immediately.

The announcement of payment was made by Housing Authority Executive Director Tolbert Elliott.

Wood's payment was made in November; Gill's was made last Friday, and Nichol's on Tuesday.

A. Frank Bray Jr., Housing Authority attorney, said that the men signed legal notes bearing four per cent interest after last year's grand jury required the return of the money.

Poison Drink Sends Boy To Hospital

On the urging of a friend, John Willoughby, 16, of 3273 Glenside Drive, Lafayette, drank a glass of Creme de Menthe spiked with paint remover, last Sunday evening, and later had to be taken to Walnut Creek Kaiser Hospital by his mother, according to Walnut Creek police reports.

Young Custard is credited with fast thinking, as he managed to induce Willoughby to vomit and rid his stomach of much of the poisoned drink.

Police Officer Robert Holcomb reported that Willoughby told him that the potent drink had been mixed by a third person, James Silva, 16, of 1030 Hampton Road, Lafayette, who then "dared Willoughby to drink it."

The boy was immediately stricken, and was taken home after Custard managed to induce vomiting.

However, he became ill again at home, and was taken to the hospital by his mother.

Willoughby at first told police that some older boys from Pleasant Hill High School had persuaded him to drink the mixture, while he, Custard and Silva were lounging at Hokey's Drive-in, Walnut Creek.

Investigation of this false lead was fruitless, and officers talked with Willoughby again the next day, and obtained his "amended" version.

Parents To Hear Exchange Pupils

The January Happy Valley Parents Club meeting will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday in the school kindergarten room.

The two American Field Service students attending Acalanes High School this year will speak. They are Tove Heste from Norway and Muhammed Jusus Ismail from Indonesia.

Donna Hunt, who spent the summer in Austria, and Dan Funk, who spent the summer in Denmark, will speak. Both of these students are seniors at Acalanes.

All parents of children at Happy Valley School are invited.

Troop 156 Girls Look Back on Busy Year

Troop 156, Orinda, is looking forward to the new year. Among its activities for the fall season had been a cookout at Twin Canyon Camp for the purpose of greeting a returning family, the McKees, and wishing well to a departing family, the Magills.

In October the troop had a camp-out in the back yard of the Henderson home on Loma Vista Drive.

This happened to be the only night in the season on which it rained.

In November, on Veteran's Day, the troop visited the Van Gogh exhibit at Golden Gate Park and after this, they had an afternoon at Playland at the Beach.

The outstanding troop activity for the month of December was a Boo party, "The Holiday Hoo" at the Scout Hut for which the whole troop made extensive plans. Over the whole fall period Troop 156 has been working hard with William Koch of the Orinda Fire Department on the necessary requirements for the First Aid badge.

The troop is divided into two patrols. One, headed by Helen Johson, includes Marvlyn Anderson, Dru Dunshee, Sherry Foster, Ann Clvatt, Janet Jones and Judy Swanson.

In Kay Courtwright's patrol is Eleanor Larson, Julia Henderson, Terry Morris, Toni Soule, Pat Starkman and Leslie Smith.

Cage Carnival Is Next Friday

Fairview School's first "Cage Carnival" will be held next Friday at the Acalanes High School gymnasium.

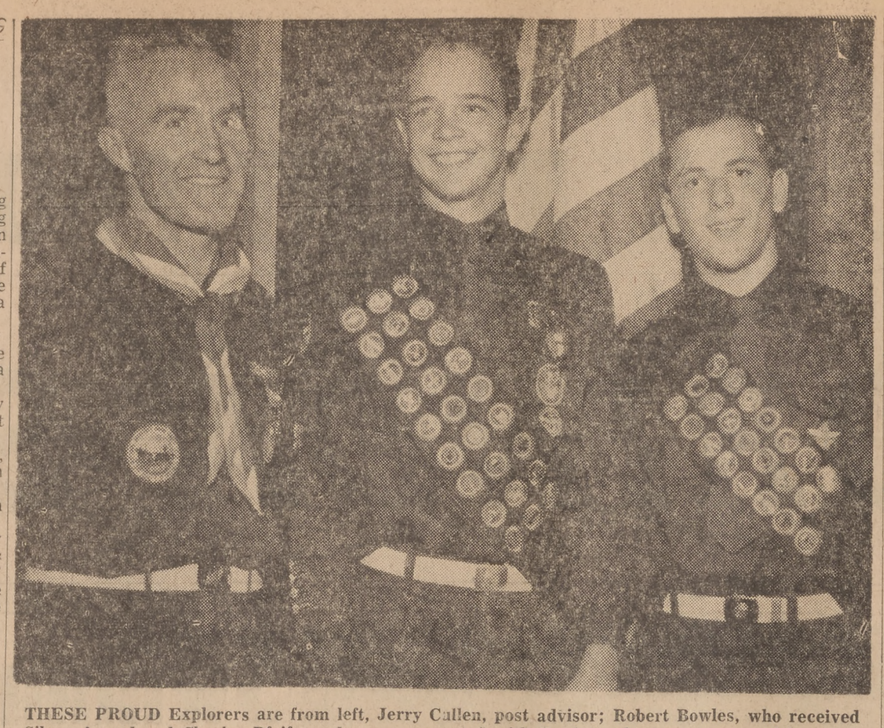

Proceeds will go for the Fairview Parents' Club treasury. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

The first three games will feature school teams, and teachers, spouses and parents will "star" in the last two games.

Say sponsors, "The latter two games, featuring an odd assortment of players and uniforms (?) should be hilarious, as none of the players claim professional fame, and we understand that more than a couple are out of condition."

The revised schedule is as follows:

Montecito fifth vs. Fairview fifth, 7:45 p.m.; Montecito sixth vs. Fairview sixth, 8:10 p.m.; Stanley seventh vs. Fairview seventh, 8:35 p.m.; ladies faculty vs. mothers, 9:10 p.m.; men's faculty vs. dads, 9:40 p.m.

Incorporation Receives Boost in Lafayette

By BILL HINES

Commercial property owners this week lined up solidly behind the move, already heartily endorsed by residents, to demand of supervisors an election on the question of incorporation for the Town of Lafayette.

Jim Simonds and Ted Barcelon, in charge of signature solicitation of commercial property owners, reported that so far their support of the incorporation move has been 100 per cent.

"In fact," Simonds noted, "William (Gotrocks) Gordon went to the fire house to sign without having had anyone call on him."

Gordon owns the Milt Nelson's LaFonda property, plus about a square city block of adjacent land.

Other property owners who have signed the petition calling for an incorporation election include:

MANUEL LEMOS, owner of the Mel Nielsen Tire Service property.

WALT MEIMA, owner of the Lafayete Plumbing Co. property at 3843 Golden Gate Way.

STEWARD WADE, co-owner of the Orchard Nursery & Florist property at 4011 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

JIM WALDIE, owner of the Diamond K, Economy House and Lafayette Toyland properties.

CLAUDIO GARIBOTTI, owner of LaFiesta Shopping Center.

"What surprised me is that at least 80 per cent of Lafayette store properties is owned by local residents," Simonds commented.

"I though most owners would be out of state, or at least out of Lafayette.

"But they live right here—and that's a darned good thing for Lafayette."

THE DRIVE to line up remaining landlords as backers of incorporation will get under way in earnest next week, Simonds declared.

"The truth is that we haven't been working very hard," said Simonds, a Junior Chamber of Commerce member who was appointed to the Lafayette Improvement Association Incorporation Committee.

"We haven't exactly been in a hurry because, as a story in The Sun two weeks ago pointed out, the Town of Lafayette will earn about $300,000 if it becomes incorporated after the beginning of the next fiscal year on July 1, 1959."

THE REASON for the possible golden egg, acording to William Zion, Lafayette Man of the Year and Incorporation Committee the county would still be responsible for providing as all current county services.

But, he averred, State subventions to Lafayette—estimated to amount to $400,000 annually, would be paid to the town after incorporation.

No subventions are paid to unincorporated communities.

A guess at the pro-rated amount for a portion of a year which would be given Lafayette is $300,000.

Cubs Succor Wounded Knee Boys and Girls

Following the Cubbing tradition of Doing for Others, Cub Pack 207 contributed to the World Friendship fund.

As their Christmas gift, they sent packages to Indian boys and girls of the Wounded Knee Reservation in the Dakotas.

Jack Steller, regional representative of the Meridan District, presented the pack charter at a recent meeting.

A movie, "Fabulous Fishing," was enjoyed by Cubs and parents.

Pack 207 thanked Mrs. Barbara Wulfert for writing and directing a Christmas program.

The pack's next meeting will be a Father-Son Blue and Gold Dinner at 6:30 p.m. February 3.

Cub Pack 225 Promotes Boys, Gives Patches

Henry Blaylock, district executive, Mt. Diablo Council Boy Scouts of America, presented the President's Award for outstanding achievement to the pack.

In addition the district recognized the pack committee with a special award for its active participation.

A Bobcat ceremony welcomed Paul Engle, Donny Gardner and David Smith into the pack.

Mrs. Smith urged those interested to call her to volunteer their services.

Extension Sought Of Summer School Fun For Children

By BARBARA BOROWIAK

For the purpose of coordinating ideas and pooling teaching resources on possible summer enrichment programs, representatives from six of the seven grade schools in the Lafayette district met last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kerns.

The meeting was called by Mrs. Kerns, a parent from Fairview, and Ted Collins, principal.

Since the programs at Lafayette, Springhill and Montecito schools met with such great success last summer, interest is running high not only for repeat programs at these schools but also for other schools in the area.

The classes ran in addition to the district sponsored program of sports and arts and crafts.

Summer enrichment programs were sponsored by the PTAs of each separate school and varied from typing and a foreign language at one school to these plus other courses in science, creative writing and extended reading at other schools. The possibilities of adding to the curriculum in the fields of drama and the arts was discussed.

Interested parents in the community may contact their principals or PTA presidents for information concerning the formulation of the 1959 program.

Attending the meeting were representatives from the Lafayette School District office and Fairview, Lafayette, Springhill, Burton, Montecito and Vallecito Schools.

Group Meets

The Unified Veterans Employment Conncil of Eastern Contra Costa County met in the Veterans Memorial Building, Concord, on Wednesday.

The purpose of this committee is to devise ways and means to assist qualified Veterans in finding work.

Lafayette Women Hear Students from Overseas

At their January 6 meeting, members and guests of Lafayette Women's Club enjoyed a talk on Indonesia by an 18 year old native of that country, Muammed Jresuf Ismael, and a talk on Norway by an attractive young citizen of that country, Tove Heite.

Mrs. Michael Roberts of Lafayette, local president of the American Field Services, introduced the young people, who are exchange students here through the work of that organization.

Young Jresuf delighted his audience by a demonstration of how the ladies of Indonesia wear the sarong, their native dress.

THEN HE said "You Americans do not know how high you are (economically) because you do not see how low (poor) the rest of the world, especially the East, is".

William Faulkner, deputy in the local sheriff's office, was introduced by club president Mrs. Harold E. Mutnick. He gave a short talk on the work of his office in apprehending law-breakers in the narcotics field.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Mutnick appointed a new committee whose responsibility will be to work toward getting a new clubhouse established on the club's lot here.

This is looking quite some distance into the future, but first steps are being taken by the appointment of the committee members. They are Mrs. T. J. Clark, Mrs. Fred Peglow, Mrs. Harry Sims, Mrs. Sigrid Webber, and Mrs. M. P. Superak.

A PLEASANT social hour followed the meeting, which was held in the Veterans Memorial Hall.

Mrs. R. H. Lockey supervised the serving of delicious refreshments. Her assistants were: Mesdames James D. Raymond, George Pedersen, Dwight C. Birch, J. E. Campbell, and Earl Plescia.

Mrs. Stewart Wade and Mrs. Naomi Dahlberg were responsible for the lovely flower arrangements.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Harry Sims of 1162 Crescenta Court, Lafayette, acted as hostess to club members who prepared some kits for the Contra Costa County Heart Association.

Square Dancing Class Is Slated

A new class in beginner square dancing will start on Monday at the Pleasant Hill Elementary School on Oak Park Boulevard, Pleasant Hill.

The class is for all persons 18 years and older and preferably for couples. No dancing experience of any type is necessary as this class starts from the beginning.

The time will be 8 until 10 p.m. The instructors will be Ray and Marge Vierra who have been teaching and calling for the Pleasant Hillbillies for three years.

The Pleasant Hillbillies square dance group is sponsoring this new cass. For more information or to register in advance, please phone MU 5-8880.

Courses Offered For Adults Here

A basic first-year course in chemistry is being offered on Monday evenings at Mt. Diablo High School with Jack Criqui as leader of the group.

Adults interested in chemistry and those requiring chemistry for nursing or other careers, will find the information presented in a most interesting manner. Additional students can be accepted in this class.

Conversational Spanish, on Monday eveiings at Mt. Diablo High School, is open to a few additional students. The instruction is planned to help interested adults to pronounce words, form sentences, use idioms, and to converse with our Latin American neighbors. Clark Faids is the instructor.

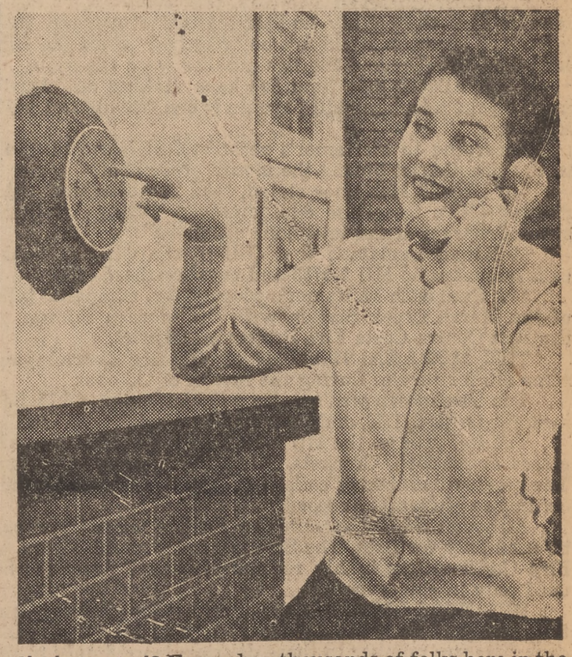

Additional students may enroll in Mrs. Jane Nicolson's classes in sewing and tailoring at Mt. Diablo High School on Tuesday evenings, or Pleasant Hill High on Wednesday evenings.

Beginning, as well as intermediate and advanced students, are encouraged to attend.

WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

Clock stopped? Every day, thousands of folks here in the Pacific West get the correct time from us. In many places, they just dial a number. This connects them with a machine which automatically gives the correct time. In other areas, local operators are always ready to give you the time. Of course, you may not need to use this service every day — but it's nice to know the correct time is as near as your phone. And this service is just one of the many useful "extras" that adds value to your telephone.

Nation-Wide Dialing Comes to Martinez

Pictured is Martinez's new telephone office, Central Contra Costa County's latest addition to the Nation-wide dialing network. Effective January 18, Martinez customers will be able to dial their calls and the new prefix ACademy 8 goes into use. With this important change Central Contra Costa County telephone users with one and two party lines in the MUlberry, YEllowstone and CLifford exchanges can dial Martinez telephones direct—A real time saver. Pacific Telephone Company

Taxpayers Stuck With Resort Phone Listings

The Sun discovered that the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District line may be "tied up" and the caller receive a busy signal if another person is calling Marsh Creek Lodge at the same time.

For example, if a person looks up Marsh Creek Lodge under "Cocktail Lounges," he will find it listed as MU 2-9733. Upon calling, he will be connected with the lodge and may conduct a conversation concerning reservations, facilities, etc. While this conversation is carried on, another person may call the same number to report a fire. The person will get a busy signal.

THERE IS no other listing for the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District except MU 2-9733. There are other numbers listed for the San Ramon and Moraga stations of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District.

"THE CHARGE for a listing in the yellow pages is determined by the amount of space used by the advertiser. There is no charge for a listing in the white pages of the directory nor is there any charge to a fire district for listing on the front page of the telephone directory," according to Howard Greenhalgh, district manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Further investigation by The Sun revealed that in the 1957 telephone directory, Marsh Creek Lodge was listed on pages 119, 63, 449, 445 and 330 in the classified section using the fire district number.

COMMISSIONERS OF THE district are appointed by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors and are responsible to the supervisors for their actions, according to Connery.

Connery is conducting a study for the county on fire protection districts and will present his report to the county board of supervisors, listing in detail the operation of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District as well as other fire protection districts within one month.

There have been previous investigations into Gill's activities while a commissioner of the Contra Costa Housing Authority by county and federal officials.

Gill has just finished repaying some $685 in overdrawn expense money to the Contra Costa County Housing Authority where he has been a commissioner since 1941.

THE ORDER for repayment was made by the Contra Costa Grand Jury and was collected by District Attorney Nejedly.

Gill was also charged with conflict of interest when he threw a party for housing authority employees at his Marsh Creek Lodge by Fred Anthon, ousted maintenance supervisor for the housing authority.

The grand jury after hearing testimony from Gill, in which he admitted using housing authority funds for the party, cleared him of the conflict of interest charge.

IN ADMITTING the use of the housing authority money for the party, he stated the employees had a good time at the party and in addition to the $500, it cost him $100 out of his own pocket.

The Sun first revealed Anthon's charges early in 1957 which lead to the conviction of Ronald A. Howard in federal court of stealing government property.

The Sun later learned that commissioners of the housing authority had spent $18,000 over a three year period on junkets throughout the United States. This information was turned over to the Grand Jury which issued the repayment order.

SOME 40 GIRLS of the Contra Costa area have enrolled in the new Capwell's Charm School and in about six weeks will "star" in a fashion show. Getting a few hints from instructor Mrs. Pat Fink are, from right, Kay Darnell, Karen Kuhn, Judie Jones and Janera Crabbe.

Chief Gill Tells of Listings

district came in there the commissioners decided that the numbers would stay the same.

"If we were to put in another line, it would cost the taxpayers more money and the people who are in our area, don't look up the number for the fire house, they look up Marsh Creek Lodge.

"WE ARE REALLY doing them a favor by making it easier for them to find the fire house number," said Gill.

"One of the things that people are quick to forget is that I have been fire chief for 25 years, and have never collected one cent of salary. The only thing I do get, and that's been over the last two years, is $3 per hour while I'm working on fire district business," Gill continued.

Gill pointed out that taxpayers of the fire district get "much more than their tax dollars would normally buy."

"I give the district free rent, I don't get a salary, I pay the light bill and I pay for the telephone calls made on the phone. What more could they want," Gill commented.

AS AN EXAMPLE, Gill pointed out that if there were a separate telephone, there would have to be a person to man it. "This person gets about $275 per month for this type of service," Gill said.

"The way we work it now is whoever happens to be around, answers the phone and we give good service to the people," Gill continued.

"For example, my wife is paid $80 a month by the fire district as a radio operator and dispatcher. This service done by someone else would cost $300 or $400 a month on a full time basis," Gill continued.

"My sons, each take turns manning the truck 24 hours a day. Although one boy is on the payroll as captain at $330 a month, the two boys split the money so the job is covered day and night, Gill explained.

"NOW THEY ARE doing the job cheaper than could be done by full time people. I could collect a salary of up to $750 a month as chief, but I just donate my time on a volunteer basis. My assistant chief makes $500 a month, just to show what a good deal the taxpayers are getting in my district," Gill noted.

Asked if the lodge and emergency fire district number being on the same number caused confusion or delay in the reporting of a fire, Gill answered:

"In all the years that we have been fighting fires we have never had a telephone delay. In fact, and you can ask anybody, we have one of the most efficient fire districts in the county.

"We have the right type of equipment and really know how to get the job done to put out any kind of fire. What more can you ask," Gill concluded.

Model Trains To Roll Tonight At WC Clubhouse

The doors will open tonight at 7:30 for the sixth annual show of the Diablo Valley Lines. It will run through the entire weekend. Sponsor is the Walnut Creek Model Railroad Society, whose clubhouse is located on Railroad Avenue, Walnut Creek.

The new extension of Mt. Diablo Boulevard leads directly to the gravel plant on the Southern Pacific tracks where a turn to the right leads to the clubhouse 100 yards to the south.

The realistic scale model railroad is spread out on a table 40 feet long, all in HO scale—3.5 millimeters representing one foot in full scale and a track gauge of five-eighths of an inch.

Extensive changes have been made in the past year by the hard-working club members under the leadership of President Hank Bashford and Vice President Dave Westcott, both residents of Walnut Creek.

Other members are from Lafayette, Danville, Pleasant Hill, Concord and Pittsburg.

New control panels and communication system will make operation of the miniature trains even more realistic.

The massive brass whistle decorating the center post was donated by the Southern Pacific Company from an old time steam engine.

The show will continue tomorrow from 2 to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 2 to 8 p.m. The admission charge is 25 cents.

Gaels Home To Face Bronce Five

Having just completed the 11th of 12 games on the road this last weekend with victories over Loyola (50-41) and Pepperdine (74-64), the travel weary Galloping Gaels returned home undefeated in current WCAC league play.

With seven out of the remaining 11 games in the friendly confines of the Saint Mary's Gymnasium the Gaels start their home stand by meeting the only other undefeated team in the league — Santa Clara — tonight. Season record 8-4.

Led by Tom Meschery (6.6) the Gaels will be facing a young but potent Bronc squad and should be up for this game because of its league championship implications.

With LaRoy Doss (6.5) named Player of the Week on Monday for his fine performance in the Southland and Dick Sigaty (6.5) showing his old form, potting 17 markers against Loyola plus the excellent game being played

For Swim Pools County is 2nd Only to L.A.

Contra Costa County's total of 2300 swimming pools places it second only to Los Angeles County in the state, surveys show.

A total of 215 pools opened last year in the county, and 203 the year before, and there is no indication that the increase will "decrease."

There are statistically about 165 persons in the county per pool, but this does not necessarily indicate that each private pool has anywhere near that number at any one time.

A DYNAMIC INSURANCE STOCK

Insurance Corp. of America Common Stock

This young, aggressive specialty insurance company has boosted its assets more than 600 per cent in less than four years. These assets are exclusive of a 93 per cent interest in a four-million-dollar profitable subsidiary acquired in 1956. Dividends paid in the past four years have included five cash dividends, a 100% stock dividend and two five per cent stock dividends. Recently the company sold two subsidiaries, realizing a profit equal to more than $1.00 per share on the common stock. In addition to this non-recurring profit, earnings from operations for 1958 are estimated at close to $1.00 per share. ICA is presently negotiating to purchase control of a Life Insurance Company. The common stock selling in the over-the-counter market under $5.00 per share offers interesting possibilities for growth and income. Write or phone for a report, no obligation.

Clayton Calls For Vote Control Of State Taxes

James B. Clayton, new president of the California Real Estate Association, in San Jose this week proposed new state legislation which would give citizens the right to approve new state tax increases and also to set a limit on California's indebtedness.

Clayton said that "Now is the time to halt the increasing tax burden on real estate."

He also called for efforts to encourage more industry expansion to support the state's tax structure.

Clayton spoke at inaugural ceremonies for CREA directors. There are about 1000 directors for the 160 boards in the state.

Mrs. Freeman Sells 'Trains' Easily in Sun

Mrs. P. Freeman of 63 Mathews Place, Walnut Creek, sold a set of Lionel trains and all the "extras" before Christmas for $170, thanks to her classified ad placed in The Sun Shopping News and the four Sun subscription newspapers.

"I was delighted with the results," she said.

Mrs. Joseph Andrews of 2017 Stewart Avenue, Walnut Creek, advertised in The Sun for a baby crib "not over $15" and got an immediate response. And the people even delivered the crib right to her door!

H. J. Tice had no trouble at all selling his antique cuckoo clock, German made, by using The Sun classifieds.

Each of the hundreds of persons who placed classified ads in The Sun, were pleased to learn that their ad automatically went into The Sun "Shopper" and also at no extra charge, into The Lafayette Sun, Walnut Creek Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun.

The minimum price of $1.60 allows an ample 14 words, and it guarantees that your ad will be read by more central county people than those placed in any other paper.

Supervisor Seeks Removal Of Moraga from District

sessed valuation of $14,628,111 and a tax rate of .703 per $100 of assessed valuation.

THE DISTRICT'S budget as set by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors is $101,699 for 1958-59. The breakdown of the budget is maintenance and operation, which includes services, supply, replacement of equipment and expense allowances, $30,874; wages and salary, $70,325 and capital outlay, $500.

By comparison, the Central Fire District has a budget of $606,687 for fiscal year 1958-59 with $30,965 for maintenance and operation, $426,772 for salary and wages and $38,950 for capital outlay.

Percentage wise, the East Contra Costa Fire Protection district spends 30 per cent of its budget on maintenance and operation, while Central fire spends 13 per cent for the same item. East Contra Costa allots 69 per cent for salary and wages while Central allots 70 per cent for that item.

FOR CAPITAL outlay, East Contra Costa allocated less than one per cent of its budget while Central allocated 14 per cent.

The tax rate for the Central Fire District is 10 cents higher than the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District.

Nielsen explained that the East Contra Costa Fire Protection district was formed to serve the extensive agricultural lands in the eastern, southern and extreme central-western portions of the county.

NIELSEN ADDED that since the urbanization of Moraga has been started, the fire service need there is residential rather than rural.

"We certainly are going to investigate the services performed by the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District to assure the people get the best possible protection for their tax dollars," Nielsen declared.

"If there is a problem of service, or administration, I plan on having it rectified as quickly as possible," Nielsen promised.

STUDIES INTO the operation of fire districts throughout the county are being presently conducted by the county administrator's office.

A report on these activities will be turned over to the county board of supervisors within one month, according to Joseph Connery of the administrator's office.

Jerry Waldie Named Vice Chairman Of Assembly Industrial Relations

Jerome Waldie, 10th District assemblyman, has been assigned to the Finance and Insurance, Industrial Relations, Education and the Judiciary (criminal) Committee's of the California State Legislature.

Waldie, in a telephone interview with The Sun, stated he had been named vice chairman of the industrial relations committee by Ralph Brown, speaker of the house.

WALDIE POINTED out that on the judiciary committee one of the most important issues which will be facing the group is the proposed 30-year minimum sentence for "dope pushers."

Waldie stated that he would ask Contra Costa County District Attorney John A. Nejedly for his opinion of the proposed legislation as well as seek the counsel of other law enforcement and judiciary bodies.

Of interest to central county residents will be a proposed measure asking for an authority governing all special fire districts, he said.

The terms of the legislation, Waldie said, are based on the Los Angeles Metropolitan Fire Proteciton Authority Act.

WALDIE COMMENTED that cities which have a municipal type of government would be excluded, if they so desired, from the authority but all other districts would be answerable to the overall fire authority board.

Waldie stated that he has been commuting to and from Sacramento each day and may be reached either at his offices in Antioch or in Sacramento.

His secretary is Charlene Little.

County Business Up 8.6 Per Cent, Says Bradstreet

Contra Costa County listed 8.6 per cent more businesses in 1958 than in 1953 according to a report released by Dun & Bradstreet.

Concord realized a 64.2 per cent increase, Walnut Creek a 19.7 per cent gain, Danville 98 per cent, Lafayette 19.1 per cent and Orinda 55.5 per cent increase in the number of businesses in 1958.

"There were 4431 businesses listed this past year in Contra Costa County which is an increase of 352 businesses over 1953," said R. F. Cathcart, district manager of the San Francisco office of Dun & Bradstreet.

Basing his facts on the figures in the current November, 1958, Reference Book, Cathcart points out that the 47 counties of northern California as a whole showed an increase of 4 per cent for this five year period, while the nine Bay Area counties listed 1.1 per cent more businesses than in 1953.

Alameda County, San Francisco County and Solano County listed fewer businesses in 1958.

Using the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book listings as a guide here are the comparative statistics on the industrial development and growth in Contra Costa County by cities:

City	11/53	11/58	Pct. Chng.
Concord	355	583	+64.2
Danville	51	101	+98.0
Lafayette	199	237	+19.1
Orinda	63	98	+55.5
Walnut Creek	390	467	+19.7

Using the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book listings as a guide here are the comparative statistics on the industrial development during the past five years in the county:

High Schools' Fire Safety Plans Told

The Acalanes High School District will continue to emphasize the district's general safety and fire hazard prevention program, according to Arthur Dambacher, district safety coordinator.

The program pertains to the high schools—Acalanes High in Lafayette, Las Lomas in Walnut Creek and Miramonte in Orinda.

Dambacher reported that a course in fire prevention and use of equipment has been completed by cafeteria workers in the district schools.

In addition all employees are briefed on fire safety routines and each school conducts a monthly fire drill in cooperation with the fire district in its area.

Acalanes District Superintendent Neil Parsons said, "The district's schools are designed so that they are all one story. Each classroom lets out into an open corridor and an open expanse, generally, affording a minimum hazard for students from fire."

Doyle Merges With Oakland Insurance Co.

Howard K. Cross and Donald D. Doyle of Lafayette, have joined the insurance brokerage firm of Griswold, Withoft and Farley, according to John D. Farley, partner in the firm.

Cross is a veteran of 32 years in the insurance business and Doyle, past president of the Oakland Association of Insurance, has seen 12 years of action in the business.

Doyle is the former Republican Assemblyman from the 10th District.

Former Blind Student Outstanding as Teacher

Under the heading "Blindness No Handicap . . ." the December issue of the P.G.&E. Progress, statewide consumer bulletin, applauds the achievement of Bob Slauson, former local high school student who graduated from Acalanes High in 1951.

Young Slauson, totally blind since an accident in infancy, was the first blind student admitted to the Lafayette high school. After graduating from Acalanes, Slauson studied at the University of California where he worked his way through college by repairing radios.

Slauson, now 26, is in his third year as an instructor in science and math at Mendocino Union High School, where he is reported to have earned, "an excellent record in his dedicated career of helping young men and women."

He teaches eighth grade math, physics, geometry and beginning and advanced algebra.

Buchanan Field To be Surveyed

Buchanan Field, Pleasant Hill, is one of nine Bay Area airfields which will be surveyed this weekend in project "Elbow Room," conducted by the Federal Aviation Authority, it was announced.

Major E. O. Musser, commander of Civil Air Patrol Mt. Diablo Squadron 88, said that the object is to obtain data which will, "Contribute to the formulation of airspace controls to accomplish maximum use of available airspace for all segments of aviation."

The Civil Air Patrol is cooperating in the project which began yesterday at Buchanan and will run through Sunday.

Major Musser said:

"The problem of airspace utility is one which concerns all who fly and has a profound effect upon the people who reside and work on the ground below.

"Effective airspace control and use is essential to air safety and the protection of our citizens both in the air and on the ground.

"The Federal Aviation Authority has selected sample airports throughout the nation and has assigned the Civil Air Patrol the task of interviewing pilots of all aircraft landing and taking off to gather pertinent information about the normal use of general aviation airplanes in the area selected.

"It is important to the success of the survey that as many of the flying public know as much as possible about the pending survey," he said.

The other eight airports in the Bay Area which will be surveyed at the same time are the Oakland International Airport, San Francisco Bay Airport (San Rafael), San Francisco International Airport, San Mateo County Airport, Palo Alto Airport, Hayward Municipal Airport, Air Dorado Seaplane Base and the Half Moon Bay Flight Strip.

Lieutenant John W. Landregan Jr., USNR, of 291 Monticello Drive, Walnut Creek, reported on January 12 to the Navy's Military Sea Transportation Service, Pacific Area headquarters in San Francisco for a two-week active duty program.

Lt. Landregan is a member of a Naval Reserve Merchant Marine Company.

His two-week training course will include visits to the various departments of the MSTS area command, briefings on ship operations and studying cargo procedures for MSTS ships.

Fair Oaks PTA Holds Meeting

"The Ideal School" was the theme of the Fair Oaks Elementary School P-TA meeting which was held Monday.

A panel made up of members of the faculty discussed the program of education at the Fair Oaks School.

A cake sale followed the meeting.

Refreshments were served by morning first grade room mothers with Mrs. Lenard Grotte as chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. John Kelly, Mrs. Earl Hazen, Mrs. James Calkins and Mrs. William Gaither.

Mrs. Hastings Joins WC Ranks

Mrs. Virginia Hastings of Concord has been hired by the Walnut Creek Police Department as clerk-typist, it was announced.

Mrs. Hastings is a native of Arkansas, and has been an area resident for six years.

She has had experience as an F.B.I. file clerk, and has held several other office and secretarial jobs. She is also taking night courses at Diablo Valley College.

Diablo Vista Club To Meet Tuesday

The board members of the Diablo Vista Parents Club held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. Marge Fierro on Price Lane.

Tuesday will be the regular parents club meeting at which time the program will be turned over to Morley Carothers, principal of the Pleasant Hill Intermediate School.

Carothers will speak on the curriculum of the intermediate school and the change over from the elementary system to the intermediate system.

There will be a question and answer period and refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Soprano Farrell Debuts in SF Wagner Program

Eileen Farrell makes her debut with the San Francisco Symphony in an all-Wagner program at the Opera House this Wednesday and Thursday evenings and on next Friday afternoon.

She will be soloist under the baton of Maestro Enrique Jorda in the "Liebestod" from "Tristan and Isolde" and Brunnhilde's Immolation Scene from "Die Gotterdammerung."

Orchestral works programmed are Wagner's Overture to "Das Liebesverbot" and the prelude to the third act of "Tristan and Isolde."

Often referred to as "the finest dramatic soprano in the world," Eileen Farrell is not only a superlative opera star, but one of the great recitalists and concert performers today.

Symphony tickets are obtainable at the Opera-Symphony Box Office at Sherman, Clay & Company, EX 7-0717, and all Bay Area agencies.

Local Man Will Command Sub-Killing Navy Ship

By HOMER THOMAS
Public Information Officer, USNR

Tomorrow 130 East Bay Naval Reservists will take formal possession of the fighting ship they will man in the event of hostilities or general mobilization.

The destroyer escort USS Alvin C. Cockrell will be transferred from active duty with the Pacific Fleet to "in service" status and assigned to Comdr. Henry Steinbach of Lafayette and his Selected Reserve Ship Crew, including 16 Contra Costa County men.

TRANSFER CEREMONIES will be at Treasure Island.

The Cockrell is one of several destroyers and destroyer escorts which have been assigned to reserve ship's crews on both coasts as part of the Navy's wartime anti-submarine warfare arm.

These ships have a nucleus active duty crew of two officers and 33 enlisted men assigned as shipkeepers, with the remainder of their wartime compliment composed of pay-drill reservists.

THE COCKRELL reserve crew is composed of volunteers from units at the East Bay Naval Reserve Training Center, 2155 Clement Avenue, Alameda.

They will drill and be trained in special jobs aboard ship.

Designed to seek out and kill submarines, the 1,745-ton displacement Cockrell carries two 5"/38 caliber dual purpose mounts two 40mm twin mounts, one 40mm quad mount, two depth charge launchers, hedgehog launcher, six K guns and the latest underwater detection devices.

The Cockrell will be turned over to Commander Steinbach and his crew by her present commanding officer, Lt. Comdr. John La Cava.

WHILE THE active duty officer who is designated officer-in-charge of the Cockrell will be responsible for the ship when the reserves are not drilling aboard, Commander Steinbach will be issued special orders prior to each drill-cruise naming him commanding officer for that cruise.

He will have complete authority over both the active duty and reserve crew. In the event of mobilization, he would assume command, and the reserve crew would report aboard for active duty.

COMMANDER STEINBACH was named commanding officer of Naval Reserve Surface Battalion 12-1 at the Alameda center prior to his assignment to the Cockrell.

He lives at 1067 Glen Road, Lafayette.

During World War II he saw extensive duty aboard destroyers and destroyer escorts in the South Pacific.

ALSO TAKING part in the ceremonies will be Rear Adm. George L. Russell, 12th Naval District commandant; Capt. John P. Clark, USN, programs administration officer for Navy Reserve; Capt. Victor A. King, USN, assistant chief of staff for Navy Reserve Training, both on Adm. Russell's staff, and Comdr. Martin Kuhn, Jr., commanding officer of the East Bay Naval Reserve Training Center.

Perpetuas Eye Flight Into Spring

"Flight Into Spring" is the title chosen by St. Perpetua Women's Guild of Lafayette for its annual luncheon and fashion show at the Claremont Hotel at noon, February 5, with fashions by William Silva of Montclair.

Six of Silva's models will be on the ramps along with five Guild members. The Guild members are Mmes. Charles Neuman, Robert Coleman, Edward Parks, C. Westington, and D. Vogel.

Mrs. Donald Kraatz is in charge of the models.

A program will be staged by Lafayette "LaFrantics" troupe.

Mrs. A. Schaefer is planning the decorations of spring blossoms, baskets, ribbons and balloons.

Mrs. Hugh Lennahan is general chairman. Assisting her are the Mmes. R. Cairney and William Sanford, in charge of reservations; George Murphy, hostesses; F. Ferriter, entertainment; and Miss Mary Gordon, commentary.

For information call the Mmes. Cairney at ATlantic 3-3654, or Sanford at ATlantic 3-8090.

LaFonda to Build His Second Motel

Latest plans for the $175,000 luxury motel to be built on Highway 99 just south of Dunnigan were disclosed today by H. R. LaFonda of Orinda, developer.

Improvements on the 3½ acre site will include a 24-unit motel, service station, restaurant and a heated swimming pool.

The motel will be patterned after The Sands on MacArthur Boulevard in Oakland, which LaFonda operates.

The Dunnigan development, too, will be called The Sands.

J. Bailey Construction Co. of Woodland is the general contractor.

Bailey told The Sun that he will begin work as soon as rains end, and that construction will be completed sometime in May.

March of Dimes Dance Gathers 500 Spectators

The fifth annual March of Dimes Dance sponsored by the Pleasant Hill Folk Dancers Saturday evening at the Concord National Guard Armory was attended by about 500 people.

The beautiful costumes and dances of the Japanese American Club, the precision dancing of Bev Wilder's Quadrille and the colorful Mexican dance done by the San Leandro Folk Dancers was warmly applauded by the crowd.

Don Manzer, general chairman, announced that all donations were not in but over $600 had been received so far.

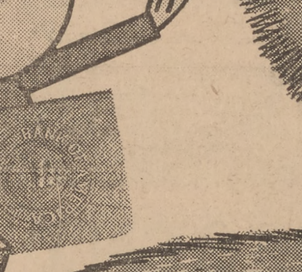

He also expressed thanks on behalf of the club for the cooperation of the exhibition groups, callers and numerous other people who had contributed to this successful evening.

Hoover Is Appointed First Bay Rapid Transit Engineer

Keneth M. Hoover, nationally-known transportation expert, today was appointed chief engineer of the five-county San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Hoover's selection was announced after his appointment by General Manager John M. Pierce was confirmed by a vote of the district's board of directors.

PIERCE SAID Hoover expects to assume the duties of his new $25,000-a-year position about February 1. He will be the chief engineering adviser to the board of directors and will direct and coordinate the activities of engineering consultants.

Hoover, who is 59, lives in Sutton, Mass.

Peirce told the directors he selected Hoover as the candidate most qualified for the chief engineer's post following a nationwide search in which more than 30 candidates were interviewed.

"Mr. Hoover," he said, "will bring a broad and varied experience of more than 30 years in transit engineering, operations and consulting work throughout the country, and he was highly recommended on the basis of his past accomplishments by numerous leaders in the engineering and transportation fields.

"IN ADDITION, Mr. Hoover will bring to the district a thorough knowledge of the Bay Area and the planning that has thus far gone into our project," he said.

For the past three years, Hoover has been director of the National Capital Regional Mass Transportation Survey in Washington, D. C. This survey, authorized by Congress in 1955 and costing more than $500,000, was made to ascertain future highway and public transportation requirements for the Washington metropolitan area and to provide master plans for the needed facilities.

Mt. Diablo PTA Moves Clothing Room To Concord

A room in the Academic Building on the Mt. Diablo High School campus is the new headquarters of the Mt. Diablo Council P-TA clothing center.

The clothing center began six years ago in a small room of the old Concord Elementary School on Willow Pass Road and through the years moved to a basement room of the English Building at Mt. Diablo High.

NEITHER ROOM was adequate for the large supply of new and used clothing kept on hand to care for needy school families in the area.

Parent-Teacher Associations in the Mt. Diablo Council P-TA district which covers Danville, Pacheco, Lafayette, Concord, West Pittsburg, Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek, contribute used clothing as well as a cash contribution of $15 a year to purchase new items such as underwear, stockings and jeans.

Many private contributions have been received including generous gifts of slightly soiled or damaged clothing from local merchants.

THE CLOTHING room is staffed by P-TA unit members headed by Mrs. David McWilliams, the council's student welfare chairman. Through her efforts, garments are cleaned, pressed and sorted, ready for distribution.

Briones Dam Site Picked; 20 Land Deals in Hopper

The East Bay Municipal Utility District has selected the site for its new Briones Dam and Reservoir, EBMUD General Manager John W. McFarland announced yesterday.

In a letter to more than 20 property owners in the Briones Valley area, McFarland stated that the site under investigation last month has been decided upon by the Utility District.

THE EARTH-FILL dam will be built on an east-west axis at the west end of Briones Valley on Bear Creek Road, at a point 1.3 miles from the intersection of Bear Creek and San Pablo Dam Roads.

Construction is tentatively scheduled to begin in the spring of 1960.

THE TEXT OF McFarland's letter follows:

"In our letter to you of December 4, 1958, we referred to geological and engineering investigations that were then in progress to determine the exact site of a dam to be constructed in Briones Valley in order to create Briones Reservoir.

"Based on these investigations, final feasibility determination has now been made to construct the dam at the location mentioned in our letter of December 4, i.e., on an east-west axis at a point on Bear Creek Road 1.3 miles from the intersection of Bear Creek Road and San Pablo Dam Road. The necessary surveys to determine the Utility District's exact property requirements are already under way.

"THE DISTRICT will soon appoint qualified independent appraisers who will carefully examine all land and improvements involved.

"When the appraisals have been completed, we will be in a position to discuss with you personally a fair basis for the acquisition of your property.

"We will keep you well informed by prior notice in order that visits of the appraisers may be planned as conveniently as possible for you, and we shall deeply appreciate your cooperation in our efforts to obtain accurate and equitable valuations.

"NEGOTIATIONS involving acquisition of your property will be handled by our Land Division, under the management of Mr. H. J. Wickman.

"As this letter in essence gives notice of our need to acquire all or a part of your property, it is appreciated that it may be received as distressing news to some property owners.

"I AM SURE you understand that the project which demands the use of your property is one that is essential to the welfare and progress of the area which the East Bay Municipal District is obligated to serve.

"We sincerely regret any distress or disturbance which we may have to cause in the performance of our duty to the community, and wish to assure you that we will make every effort to see that those with whom we must deal are fairly and equitably treated."

Annapolis Call

General Needs Of Annexation 'City' Related

"The general needs of Pleasant Hill and "advantages" of annexation or incorporation were related last night to some 500 persons at Pleasant Hill High School by William Zion.

Zion, head of Public Affairs Research, has completed a study of government in Pleasant Hill and will give a second presentation of his findings, Tuesday night at Gregory Gardens School.

Zion stated that "usually, the advantages of incorporation or annexation are:

- "Local control, particularly as a means of protecting the residential character of an area—and with it the investment of the homeowner — through stronger planning and zoning, avoidance of additional special taxing districts, etc.
- "Broadening of the tax base by the automatic revenues that a city receives. These are normally more than city property taxes, and more than equal the cost of taking over county services."
- "Improved services, primarily police protection, road program, and community center facilities of some sort."

PH Driver Backs Over Unnoticed Baby

Not noticing that a 16-month-old baby girl had crawled under his car, Joseph Dame, 37, of 211 Jennifer Way, Pleasant Hill, got in and backed up.

The baby girl, Diane Ward, died two hours later in Brookside Hospital, San Pablo. The incident occurred in a gasoline station in Richmond, after the Wilmer Ward family had arrived, and the parents had gotten out of the car.

Their baby girl, Diane, wandered off, unnoticed. Mr. and Mrs. Ward are Sacramento residents.

Boat Owners Must Register Crafts

Every boat owner operating his boat on any waters in the State of California must register his boat or boats with the County Assessor each year in the County where his boat is habitually kept.

This registration must be made during the month of January.

Those who have previously registered their boat should complete the application for renewal on Page 3 of the 1959 registration certificate and mail it to C. L. Dunklee, County Assessor, Court House, Martinez, California.

For those who have not previously registered their boat, or have lost their registration—contact Dunklee requesting the necessary forms to complete the registration. There is no charge for this registration.

Dunklee stated that swimming and boating are becoming increasingly popular and serious accidents are resulting from the congestion.

Protection for the boat owner and his passengers is given through the registration requirements by providing easier identification of boats which violate State or local laws by reckless or negligent operators.

Anyone desiring further information may contact the County Assessor at any time.

THAT'S THE WAY THE WIND BLOWS

THE BIG MONDAY WASH . . . Some downpour, wasn't it? And now the hand that holds the hose can rest for awhile after paying up the water bill. OVERNIGHT the land was softly carpeted, hill-to-hill, w/green grass growing all around, all around . . . and the first Iris put in an appearance, heads up & hats off!

GONE With The Wind were windows blown out & roofs blown off. And it was more than a minor repair for some to set the shingles in place again, that is, if you could find 'em!

BATTEN DOWN the Hatches . . . Over in Sleepy Hollow someone's pingpong table-top was picked up & blown into a neighbor's backyard, a startling sight to the Lady of the House who thought a space station had landed on her lawn.

AND ON CHAS. HILL, a garbage can top rolled merrily downhill flying saucer-fashion, In a Del Rey kitchen, a brand new copper kettle, a Christmas present, did a slow burn & danced the Black Bottom when the electricity came on again & the house's Hausfrau was unaware of it.

BABY PINE TREES, just getting their feet wet & in the ground, were bowled over on their sides while parent pines, tall & tough, bent over helpless to help their offshoots.

And the pinecones came tumbling down. Ditto the apples strewn all over the lawn at the Stu Hendersons when Mr. North Wind shook the very pippins out of their front yard trees. OUT RHEEM BLVD. a heavy rail fence picked up by windy blasts, landed askew like a pile of tossed kindling.

THE STRESS & STRAIN of strong wind showed on even the Mighty Oak and trees uprooted & tossed around, kept Insurance Companies working overtime this week.

Not to mention the hungover, slungover TV antennas, most of them along El Toyonal dented & done w/from the mid-mark down.

SOME AREAS WERE rougher hit than others. We clung to our cottage like a Captain on a Sinking Ship, finally budging for lunch to Caso O, joining other storm refugees in front of the fire while the storm raged outside.

A WINDOW TRUCK arrived at Black's to replace the shattered glass on the Meat Dept. side & one woman at the counter nervously gave her order—"1 lb. of ground glass, oops, I mean", says she, "ground round".

NOT-SO-ANCIENT MARINERS' TALE

NAUTICAL & NICE . . . Members of the Sea Scout Ship No. 301 worked hard & long last summer on their boat "The Bonita", a 36' Diesel-powered craft, conditioning the hull & replacing the motor on the converted Navy Rocket Launcher.

THE SEAGOING FELLOWS acquired further sea lore via 400 miles of sailing the bay waters & tributaries of the San Joaquin & Sacramento Rivers.

On stormy Monday, the Harbormaster of the Pittsburg Sea Scout Base where The Bonita is berthed, called the Sad News that the anchorage having loosed, rough waters & winds had forced The Bonita down in the port's shallow waters. The Orinda Sea Scouts wasted no time.

GETTING THE BOAT on drydock & flushing the engine, the Scouts worked along w/a rigging crew & Assistant Committee Chrmn. Hayden Courtright last Sat. in the first of the wknd. work parties. Here were Bos'n Allen Geisler, Sr. Crew Leader Albert Johns, Brian Schaefer & J. Gene Pingley. On Sunday more scouts to save the ship were Jr. Crow Leader John Lemire, Dave Dunning, Tony Roegiers, Dave Flenner, & Brian Traynor.

TODAY The Bonita is back in shape, short a few repairs, maybe, but like the old saying, "a smooth sea never made a skilful mariner," the young sailors have added more knowledge to their marine experiences.

ACCDG. TO Walt Edwards, Skipper of the crew, the boys will turn landlubbers for their next outing, a snow trip to Dodge Ridge.

If you are interested, or know someone who is, in learning more about this group, Edwards will be glad to give you the answers at CL 4-5897. New members are welcome in the high-school age group and esp. needed are Sr. adults who might have experience both in boating & scouting.

STRAIGHT STEER TO FROZEN ASSETS

The well-known cattleman whose Dutra Ranch on the Bear Creek Rd. is the most bucolic landmark left around, has lived here w/his wife Laura for the past 15 years. His colorful career started when he was 16 yrs. old & started "buying" for some of the biggest Meat Companies . . . At 18, he rented a ranch, was on his own and has been branding his own ever since.

IN DUTRA'S TRAVELS, he has trouble w/his Wallet. Once, in a small cow town where he was shipping cattle, he changed his coat in the car & in transferring his wallet was unaware that it fell out.

Checking into his hotel, he slept the night, discovered too late the wallet, containing a sizable sum, was missing.

HE WALKED OUT on the snowy street of the rough, tough town & there, big as life on the white ground in front of the hotel, lay his wallet as people walked past & right over it. He picked it up, pocketed it and coined a name for his lucky wallet wad—"REAL COLD CASH!"

By the way, Pat Sergeant (Mrs. William) who is the new prexy of the Orinda Orioles, Mt. Diablo Therapy group, is a cousin of Frank Dutra's . . . It was through the Dutras that Bill & Pat Sergeant met when she was visiting her from the East many yrs. ago.

OH, WE'RE FULL of news, But can't find our notes. Something tells us our youngest made paper planes out of the pile of notes we had on the desk.

IT ALL COMES BACK TO ME NOW

Did you know that Doris & George Clifford, that Dancing Couple (Move over, Murrays!) danced all the way to Acapulco during the holidays?

THE LIGHT-STEPPING Cliffords, who teach the famed Cheney System of Dance, were Social Directors aboard the Lurline when it sailed south during The Season.

It was Nice Work & they got it, the red carpet treatment, etal. George, if you didn't know, locked up his ledgers & adding machine some ten yrs. ago. The former accountant has been dancing w/his wife ever since.

ONE ORINDA FATHER is still shaking his head re: his un-Green Christmas salesman at a topflight SF Sporting Goods Store. Where he went, mind made up, a few days before Dec. 24, to blow for a big Bull's Eye Target for his boys.

The Salesman wouldn't sell it to him, "waste of money" he said, "wait till they're bigger." Took a whole hr. but finally talked out of the purchase, our Orinda man wondered how the Salesman would last at the job.

LAST WEEK, having taken the salesman's advice & bought a bale of hay ($2) instead for his young Robin Hoods, the father stopped in to see if salesman was still around. He was. And has been for 27 years, same job, same firm. So you see? Somebody's honest!

The Gene Hoppers & their children tooled to Texas for the yuletide & took along the Robert Pridemore's Pride & Boy to be delivered to his Texan relatives. Well, Texas being THAT Big, Evie says "We were lucky! He was going only 40 mi. from our destination." In Texas, 40 mi. being merely a hop, skip & a jump next door.

DICK & JOAN KENDALL & their crew had 10 days, the "BEST EVER," in Sun Valley . . . Lois & Jerry Pixley & lassies laced their boots at Squaw Valley & HATED to come home.

The Harold Hellers had a heck of a happy holiday in Reno and the Hal O'Flahertys cozily ensconed themselves in picturesque popped into the library & seeing her name on the Librarian's desk, turned to his mother & asked "Mom, is that lady the wife of Terence O'Flaherty?" (No, son, but she IS his Aunt!)

SID O'FLAHERTY is still smiling over the young lad who Carmel.

Before departing for their new home in Malibu, Mary Dorr, popular TV & radio gal, will, in her own superb style, give 3 Book Reviews at the Community Church, the first one set for Feb. 26, & all 3 sponsored by her sister ORIOLES, to benefit the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

MARY SAYS that even if she's already moved by the last date, she'll fly back up to keep it. And she means it. Wonderful when you have wings of your own, like an angel, which she is & does! The Dorrs have their own private plane.

Tickets for the Book Reviews are $5 for the series, available from Vera Berry, CL 4-3740.

$10,000 is Offered in Settlement

Injuries received by Carole Spotswood, 18, of 217 Evelyn Drive, Pleasant Hill due to an automobile accident resulted in a $10,000 out-of-court settlement this week.

Miss Spotswood was injured in the collision of a truck-trailer and two cars on icy Highway 40 near Auburn.

Her father, Earl Spotswood, requested Superior Court to accept the settlement, and asked permission to pay $2258 attorneys fees, $242 in expenses, and $115 to replace his daughter's ski equipment.

The remaining $7385 is to go into a trust fund for Miss Spotswood, with authorization for a $300 annual deduction for college expenses.

The settlement was offered by insurance firms representing Ringsby Truck Lines and its driver, Everett Goodrick of San Anselmo.

From the same accident, some $6200 was paid to Carol Duling, 18, of 544 Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill.

Noah Farr, 28, of Hayward was killed in the collision, and six others were injured. Farr and John Larson, 20, of 772 John Way, Lafayette, were drivers of the cars.

Sue Hill is McCall's Teen Fashion Expert

Sue Till, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hill of 1295-A Walden Road, Walnut Creek, home economics major at Las Lomas, has been chosen as a member of the "Teen Age Fashion Board" for McCall's Magazine.

Miss Hill was selected for a one year term on the basis of study of her recommendations.

During her term on the fashion board she will conduct polls and questionnaires concerning fashions at Las Lomas. Patterns will be designed an made from the reports turned in by Sue and other members over the country.

Sue is one of 80 girls representing teen agers. Approximately two girls are selected from each state. The choice of schools is changed each year.

This is the first time Las Lomas is represented on the board although nominees have been sent in each year. Sue's picture will appear in one of the coming issues of the McCall's Magazine.

Wife Charges Husband With Assault, Battery

Assault and battery charges have been filed by Mrs. Carren Copeland of 1760 First Avenue, Walnut Creek, against her husband, Robert, 21, as a result of an alleged beating she received shortly before midnight, December 27.

Walnut Creek police officers said that they went to the Copeland home in response to Mrs. Copeland's phone call, and found the husband inside the house, bleeding from cuts incurred when he broke in through a kitchen window.

Mrs. Copeland told them that they had returned from a cocktail party earlier that night, and Robert had told her she could visit a friend while he went out. She went to the home of a friend, Miss Lynn McMeans of 2709 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek.

She told officers that later Robert called her, and threatened her with bodily harm if she did not come home.

When she and Miss McMeans arrived at the house and awakened the husband who had fallen asleep in the living room, he struck and choked her, she said. And after running outside to start the car, he broke through the locked kitchen door, she added.

Mrs. Copeland also told officers that her husband had once beaten their car with a hammer in a fit of anger, and another time had pushed her off the roof of his father's home, after persuading her to help fix a television antenna. She said that she lost her expected baby two days later.

Mrs. Copeland filed her complaint in Judge Van Gorden's court in Danville.

The husband was persuaded by his parents to surrender to the police shortly afterwards. He was taken to the county jail for booking.

Man is Shot Three Times With .22 Pistol

Glen Rogers(a Napa oil distributor, was shot three times with a .22 pistol wielded by James Overholtzer, truck driver, in the home of Miss Edna Gorley, 30, of 141 Marlinda Court, Walnut Creek, sheriff's deputies said.

Rogers received wounds in his legs, but is in good condition at Kaiser Hospital.

Overholtzer was taken to the Contra Costa County jail for booking on investigation of assault with intent to commit murder.

Overholtzer was a former employee of Rogers who took a taxi to visit Miss Gorley, after leaving his truck at Port Chicago.

He drew his pistol and began firing when he learned Rogers was there, deputies said.

He left in the cab after the shooting, but returned later to surrender, they added.

Transportation---A Dilemma With Some Local Horns...

Transportation—the problem of moving people from one place to another—is becoming an ever more painful headache as populations increase and congestion adds its confusion.

We who live in Central Contra Costa County are faced with our own peculiar brand of transportation difficulties. The commuter has his problems, the housewife hers, and the occasional trip-to-town person has his.

The solution to one aspect of this problem might very well leave the other aspects in just as confused a state as before.

Therefore it might be well to take a look at the over-all transportation dilemma.

IT IS BECOMING obvious that the public is footing the bill for transportation in many ways that have never been necessary before. More and more private transportation companies are folding—more and more are coming under public subsidy and/or municipal ownership.

San Francisco streetcar companies lost thousands of dollars, and the present municipal system is subsidized by tax monies. In a similar manner, more and more governmental units and municipalities are operating their own transit systems. Chicago subways are an example of this.

THE AIRLINES have been subsidized for years through the mail contracts with the United States government, and there is a question right now as to whether or not the railroads will be able to stay in the passenger business without subsidy of some kind.

We have two governmental organizations cutting up the Contra Costa transportation pie right now. There is the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, which we want no part of, for reasons stated earlier in these columns, and the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, which appears to offer the best hope for a solution to some of our transit problems. This latter group has recommended a transbay tube, and it is up to the state legislature to act on this. The rest of the transportation complex would be financed by bond issue.

WE CAN DO SOMETHING about our transit problems right here. We can support the Bay Area Rapid Transit District by writing to our legislators and asking them to support the district's plans.

And as for the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, even the Commuters' Association, which is bound to be affected heavily, has gone on record as opposing that group's activities in this area.

Of course, we have Greyhound. This is a private bus company, and has been carrying the burden of the commute traffic—all but that carried by private automobiles—for years.

A story which appeared on the front page of The Sun last week carried the sugestion that Greyhound Lines be subsidized to compensate for its loss of revenue on commuter traffic. The subsidies would come from the state through reduction in taxes on diesel fuel, tires and vehicles.

It was suggested that this would provide Greyhound with the means of giving the commuter better service—more buses and seats for everybody.

THERE ARE TWO problems involved here. In the first place, Greyhound must provide seats for the commuters. The State Public Utilities Commission, which also regulates fares, sees to this.

In the past ,when there have not been enough buses to handle the traffic, or enough convenient stops, the commuters' association has gone to the PUC and won the battle. This group has done an excellent job.

The other problem is one of revenue. It is no secret that the commute operation loses money for Greyhound. Greyhound admit this.

It is also no secret that the long-haul—intercity and inter-state traffic does pay the way. This situation has existed for years. Greyhound has also admitted that it would frankly like to drop the commute business.

We don't know what the answer to the immediate problem is, but it has become apparent that there are many facets to the question. It would appear that subsidy of the commute system might not be fair, because everybody would be subsidizing a service that would benefit a few. Taxation would be paying for commuter service.

Solving the commuter's problem would not solve the inter-city rapid transit problem, which must also be rectified.

We would like to suggest that the immediate answer to the commuter's problem might be this:

WHY NOT GO TO Greyhound and ask the company to raise its commuter rates?

Almost any commuter who uses Greyhound regularly will agree that the commute rate is amazingly low. These rates do not apply to single-trip users, or to the long-haul tickets, but for the regular commuters, the price is cheap.

During the past few years Greyhound has received rate increases in every category execept the commute service in Contra Costa County.

So let's be fair. The cost of driving buses has gone up; the cost of gasoline has increased. Maintenance costs have risen. It would seem logical for the commuter and Greyhound to get together, work out a reasonable fare increase and an improved service schedule.

We are sure that if a joint delegation were to go the PUC with such a proposal it would be honored in short order by that body.

GREYHOUND SHOULD provide more buses now, if they are needed. This they must do. But there is no reason why a committee from the commute group and representatives from Greyhound could not get together now to work out permanent details which could then be presented to the PUC.

This should solve one pressing problem, and it might take care of the situation until a feasible rapid transit program can be envisioned.

Then maybe we can forsee a solution to the other perplexing transportation problems facing our area.

Here's A Built-In Excuse!

Okay, Dads—those of you who have been looking for an excuse! Here it is.

This is your chance to get out and experience the vicarious thrill of piloting a big locomotive through a mountain pass. Or, if you're more timid, you can spend your time shunting freight cars in the yard.

Nice thing about it is that there's absolutely no danger involved, because the trains are all scale models and the biggest engine would hardly hurt you if it fell on your foot.

AND THE EXCUSE—well, you can always take the youngsters to see the trains, meanwhile explaining to your wife that you, personally, are not interested at all—that you're just doing it out of the kindness of your heart and for the good of the children.

Now, what and where is all this?

The Walnut Creek Model Railroad Society is holding open house tonight, tomorrow and Sunday, and for the small donation of 25 cents per head, you can drop in and see one of the most fascinating displays you could hope to lay eyes on.

Where is it? Just head for Walnut Creek, continue down the extension of Mt. Diablo Boulevard to the railroad tracks and turn right for half a block. You can't miss the building.

When can you go? Tonight from 7:30 to 10 p.m.; tomorrow from 2 to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 2 to 8 p.m.

INCIDENTALLY, if you find that you are really interested, there will be application blanks for membership in the club available. Dues are $10 per year, and it is a good bet that you'll get more than $10 worth of therapy out of this wholesome hobby.

Last year, when open house was held, a tremendous turnout was realized. Reports from members describe children, asleep in the corner, while fascinated fathers gazed in admiration at the miniature engines chugging through life-like countrysides, all constructed to absolute scale.

So if you have a son (or daughter for that matter) why not make a father-youngster affair out of it? The kids are sure to enjoy it, and it's an even bet that you'll come home pretty well enthused yourself.

And as we said, you can always use the poor kids for an excuse. A chance like this doesn't come along every day!

My Driving Isn't Perfect . . .

By NORMAN COLBY

Another possible example of the fact that the safer people become, the less freedom they and their fellows are allowed to exercise might be found in the laudable new proposals by traffic safety specialists.

The never-ending series of sickening highway injuries and fatalities is enough to make any person who sees them regularly say, "Almost anything is worth avoiding this."

Maybe they are right.

The Asociation of Casualty and Surety Companies, San Francisco, recently proposed that, "Drivers whose records indicate emotional maladjustment should be removed from the road until a medical authority certifies their mental stability. . . ."

Their representative continued,"A significantly dangerous group of emotionally maladjusted persons constitute a working menace to our safety on the highways that we cannot continue to tolerate."

My own opinion is that we all have a responsibility for our physical actions behind the wheel that we don't have when we are at home sitting in our favorite easy chair.

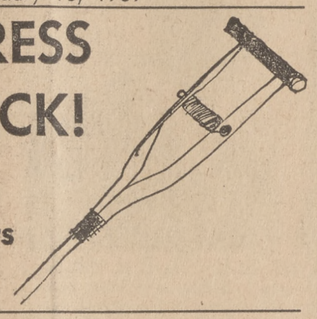

Up to a point, the more enforcement we have, the better.

But one of my unachieved goals in this life is to become psychologically "stable," and I think it will be several years, at least, before I find the serenity recommended by Buddhists and psychologists.

But I'll keep trying.

An Evening With TV and The Power Booster Pills

By JOYCE BARNUM

We've been pre-occupied with power boosts this past week.

We experimented with highly touted and powerfully boosted cold pills. But our colds were of a highly resistant strain and proved to be more powerful than the pills.

So, with raspy throats and watery eyes, we carried boxes of Kleenex to a comfortable spot before the TV set and promptly went to sleep. The entire family was wide awake for only two full hours of TV programs.

Both hours stressed power and boosted it in one way or another.

The first hour featured a press conference held in San Francisco with skillful politician and propagandist Anastis Mikoyan on deck.

OUT TO IMPRESS the assembled newsmen and TV audience in his role as a good guy, he sought to present himself as an affable, humorous, friendly, straightforward, all around fine fellow.

Somehow, in our living room, he emerged from the TV screen rather differently. No matter the question asked of him, this opportunist answered it in aggrandizement of the U.S.S.R.

He repeatedly set forth Russia as a superior, peace-loving spot under the leadership of progressive statesmen the likes of Khruschev and himself.

Aside from a peculiar rabbit-like twitching of mouth and mustaches, Mikoyan appears to have survived unmarked the rigors of government service under Lenin, Stalin, Malenkov and Khruschev.

ONETIME AUTHOR of a book extolling the virtues of Stalin, he was among the first to discredit his former idol in the Kruschev era. Although he worked hard to charm his audience and boosted powerfully for Russia, the qualities with which he sought to impress us as genuine remained bogus.

Still, who are we to deny his adaptability? This is a matter of record, as is his lack of sincerity.

His shredness was obvious. He displayed a familiarity with statistics on California's growth, population, size and climate. Undoubtedly he had been briefed, but his retentive powers are good.

Not the people who lit up the TV channel's switchboard protesting that their "favorite" programs time was being usurped—I'll bet a powerful lot.

THE SECOND HOUR was really one of greater moment, as far as residents of this area are concerned.

KQED, on channel 9, the local non-commercial outlet, boosted its power five hundred fold.

General Manager Day stated that at KQED they were hopeful that the new, stronger signal would give a clearer picture to viewers in the area from Orinda to Concord.

"That's a switch," commented our son. "Somebody over there likes us . . . and mentions us, even when we don't have a murder to solve."

It did give us a heady feeling to have our area mentioned in a friendly way. It was a very powerful boost to our provincial pride . . . as well as to our TV picture.

Perhaps the interest displayed by KQED's management in how its viewers are faring out here in our area is one of the reasons that it has progressed so well during its lifetime.

WE ARE FORTUNATE to have programming of the calibre they offer. It has a fine national reputation and produces shows which are filmed and shown on other non-commercial channels throughout the nation.

After the power boost, we could actually see Semanticist S. A. Hayakawa and his guest Clancy Hayes during the interest filled half-hour they beamed our way. And if this pair seems incongruous, you haven't been watching channel 9.

Perhaps that's because you haven't been able to get a clear picture. Try again.

For a long time we've been saying More Power to KQED, and while we hadn't meant it in the context of wattage, we're delighted to have it so.

We Like It Here . . .

Good Resolutions Go Go Go With Windblown Blues

By MARIE MONAHAN

OUT FOR A WALK in our Neck of the Woods this morning. Checking the storm damage & feeding the greedy bluejays their breakfast.

Today they rated a feast of French Toast, leftover & limp when the children dashed for the school bus, late & w/just juice & cold Toasties under their belts.

AND THERE goes the First of our New Year's Resolutions!

Unless we get a better system. Or a dozen alarm clocks all hollering, "Hit The Deck" simultaneously.

WE PROMISED to rise & Shine in '59 . . . but we just can't make it. Blame it on the gloomy mornings maybe. Or weather too wet to launch still another resolve — A Get Up & Go for an hour's walk every bright new day.

THIS WE will do when the $un $hines, Nellie. Sixty-minutes of cross-country cantering, we promise ourselves. No Horse. Just Us & our best beat-up Keds. Might even get ourselves a walking stick. Gives it that bit of country dash, the walking stick, we mean. Something for support while we huff & puff the hills around.

We're REALLY out of condition! But then — So is everything else around here.

THE IRONING BOARD needs a solder job & the radio is raving static. Cuckoo Clock has lost its cuckoo & as a result of the winds, the TV Antenna is hung over like an upended U.

The Record player is still in the repair shop & the refrigerator is drawing its last icy breath. We are just waiting for the washing machine to give us the business.

A FINE WAY TO start the New Year!

We bought a new file cabinet. We even bought a new broom. The very idea of a New System fairly swept us off our feet.

THAT IS WHY we ordered a big file case last week. Something to bring order to closets & drawers, you know, full of children's school papers, old checks & letters & such.

Well . . . the 3-drawer file was delivered today. And do you know what? Nothing would budge it open. The key wouldn't fit. FATE playing against us!

IN A FIT of furiosity, we flung the key & down it dropped into the furnace. Down the vent it went. We could hear it. So we got out the vacuum (which still works, thank heavens!) & after fishing around for 15 minutes, extricated the key. Along w/3 hairpins, 2 paper clips & 1 marble ALL rolled up in housedust.

The store sends someone to pick up the File Cabinet tomorrow.

IN THE MEANTIME we are sitting here waiting. For the P.G.&E. Man to arrive. To get the heat going again.

The only thing we can figure is that the vacuum blew out the pilot light. And well . . . the book of furnace instructions IS someplace in the house but we can't put our finger on it this minute.

JUST GOES to show you! And all those good intentions

Letters to The Editor

STOOD UP

DEAR EDITOR:

Your headlines on January 9 are wonderful — "Commuters ask for Bus Subsidy — Suggestion by Orindan may hatch legislation."

Isn't this the same group that is opposing the Alameda County - Contra Costa Transit District? Here they propose that Western Greyhound be given a tax subsidy—and yet the present estimates of the Transit District would probably result in less of a subsidy?

In addition, the determination of the tax money subsidy to be given to private operators—at a profit—is in the hands of the Public Utility Commission which is not an elective body and not a direct representative of the users of the bus service.

It seems to me that when they finish working out the "Commuters ask for a bus subsidy" approach someone will say "Let's form a district" and then, surprise, they will find they have just excluded themselves from the district that they want to form.

Ah! The wonders of logic east of the tunnel.

Sincerely,
BOB KAHN

P.S.—It is amazing that the Orindans didn't find in Miss Gallagher's letter a complete condemnation of the manners of central Contra Costans.

Miss Gallagher reported that since June she has only had a seat twice on the trip to San Francisco.

Is this an all-women's bus? Do the men sit and watch the women stand? Don't men ever stand up for women in buses any more?

If this is the case, then I suggest that a subsidy be provided only for trips on which women have the seats and men do the standing.

REPRESENTATION

DEAR EDITOR:

I would very much appreciate your forwarding The Sun to the State Capitol rather than to Antioch.

I have completed my first week in the Legislature and can state without reservation that the confusion in which I found myself the first day has been mitigated only slightly.

However, Don Doyle was of great assistance to me in showing me around the Capitol and introducing me to people who have made every effort to make the transition period more easy.

I am constantly impressed with the esteem in which Don is held in Sacramento, and I am truly impressed by the excellence of the representation that our county has in the persons of Assemblyman Masterson and Senator Miller.

I will be forwarding to you an occasional column covering the activities of the Legislature and wish to inform you that any further information you might desire on any pending legislation will be provided you promptly.

JEROME R. WALDIE

DIG THIS

DEAR EDITOR:

There have been some annoying delays in the laying of a wasteline along Windmill Road (Now El Nido Ranch Road—Ed. note) for Central Contra Costa County Sanitary District by the contractor, Valley Engineers.

I am myself a resident of Upper Happy Valley Road, which has its outlet to Mt. Diablo Boulevard by way of this now impeded route.

BUT I'M NOT too annoyed—at least, not to the extent of some of my more vociferous neighbors.

There are times, indeed, when it seems as if a vocal minority (minority, I hope) is "agin everything" — a bunch of radicals.

What the complaining residents of the area affected should keep in mind is that at this point in the big project the contractor has run into some unusual difficulties — Valley Engineers is having a rough time because of loose earth with no clay content that has a tendency to slip and slide.

TO PROTECT the lives of those who work for the firm, it is "shoring" as the line is dug. This, of course, takes more time.

But it seems to me that even residents of Upper Happy Valley Road could spare a few minutes of travel time to save lives.

For obvious reasons, I am giving you my name but asking that it be withheld. Please use just the following signature:

"PETER PIPER"

THANK YOU

DEAR EDITOR:

The Sun Publishing Company has so consistently given wholehearted support to the work of the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association, that I am taking this liberty of asking for space in which to thank your readers for their generous contributions toward the 1958 Christmas Seal Campaign.

To each and every volunteer who gave one's time unselfishly, we say "thank you" for a job well done.

To all of you who bought and used Christmas Seals, we say each Christmas Seal brought us closer to the success in our battle against tuberculosis. For these, we are doubly grateful.

Sincerely yours,
GEORGE W. WACKER

Is There Another Side To Narcotics Problem?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Last week I asked you to sign a petition—demanding that the California legislature and governor enact legislation "to make mandatory a 30-year minimum sentence, without parole, for any person convicted of selling heroin or other addictive drug."

The response has been wonderful and the petitions are on their way to join the other two million signers. Thank you.

Today, however, I received a thoughtful and provocative letter. Here it is—with a short comment by this writer.

A letter of protest

DEAR EDITOR:

Your paper has been a regular visitor to our house for nearly two years now, first off the newstands and then as a subscriber.

I have often been highly pleased with your coverage, courage and generally enlightened response to certain of our community (in the broader sense of the word) problems. I was particularly pleased with the manner in which you handled the past elections, primary and general.

For some time now, about six weeks or so, you have been running comments in the "Under the Sun" column about narcotics addiction and the petition of the Elks. I had hoped that it would come to no more than that, for I'm not convinced at all that this is the way to meet the problem in a thorough manner, but the column last Friday has made me feel that I must register my protest. Not to fact of the petition, which is another subject, but to some of the omissions and commissions that the column displays. My comments and questions follow, roughly following down your article:

I find the editorial page an unsuitable one for the selling of a commodity or idea. To persuade, to convince, to educate, to enlighten—yes. But to tell me I will want to sign a petition is the sort of effort worthy of shoes and rear-view mirrors and floor wax, not of an enlightened editor trying to shed light on a difficult and emotional subject.

With regard to the meat of the editorial:

Is it germane to ask why a peddler pushes dope? Is he himself an addict? Or is he interested only in the monetary gain? Or both? What are the statistics available? If he is an addict, would this have any bearing on the kind of legislative action best suited to cope with the problem? Similarly, if he is not?

You point out that the peddler can "purchase special consideration, where available." How available is it? Is this a legitimate avenue of action by the citizen? Laws that are little or poorly enforced, no matter what their apparent teeth may be, are little better than useless.

Question of law fees?

Would it be possible to approach the Bar Associations with some proposal that would make it onerous indeed to any member to defend a person accused of peddling for more than a pre-set minimal fee?

It would seem from what you say that the money the peddler "earns" has much to do with his easy defense, and this kind of approach might cut the foundations out from under him. It seems to me that if defense does rest on money almost entirely, the prospect of a 30-year, no-parole sentence would only stimulate him to find the absolute top defense available, thus compounding the problem rather than lessening it.

Granted this opens up a wholly new and wide field, but it is germane: What real benefit do we, the taxpayers, gain from putting a man in prison?

We pay his room and board and medical care, the amortization and upkeep of a very expensive physical plant, and salaries of a number of people, from wardens down to janitors. What do we gain?

I have heard, though have no figures on, of the young "punks" who really learn the ropes while doing short time and come out with knowledge and skill they never had before entering—anti-social skills.

What can we reasonably expect of a man re-entering our society after 30 years, with a severe social stigma, presumably without many friends, and the few he does have being mostly prison-oriented? Does prison really give him a chance to rebuild his life, to make a radical change in its direction, assuming that his is the reflective kind of personality?

New kind of prison?

I wonder if our society doesn't have a desperate need for a totally new kind of institution—one which would have the advantage to the public of removing the offender from contact with them most of the time, but without the harsh external discipline of prison, without the stigma of prison, with a real attempt made to find a genuine, useful place for the offender after "graduation" (used for lack of a better word!).

What is the historical evidence regarding parole? Does its use tend to diminish or increase the crime rate? Or isn't the question that simple? Does the use of parole in narcotics cases have a different aspect than it does in other types of crime?

Your Los Angeles statistics are very nice, but misleading. Was the 750 per cent increase from 2 to 15, from 100 to 750, from 1000 to 7500? The severity of the problem, as well as its rate of increase, has a large bearing on intelligently making a decision. What similar statistics are available for our county and what are they?

The stumbling block

The Judiciary Committee (of the State Senate?) seems to be a major stumbling block in your opinion. Why would such a bill as you propose get past it any more than the others that failed? If this is the real root of the problem, let's work on revising the committee and passing really good legislation, and not legislation that has been carefully shaped to satisfy a few individual men.

Tell us more about Ohio. Same 30-year no-parole law? Same problems as we have, same kinds and quantities of social, racial, economic groups, educational levels? What was the "fraction" to which apparent narcotics activity dropped?

ROBERT E. BARNS

What do you think?

I leave the answers to some of these questions to the judgment of you readers.

I have devoted two lengthy columns to this subject and specifically did not fill them with statistics. So much data is being printed on this subject that I feel the main job is to spotlight the problem. My column did not attempt to analyze the philosophy of whether we should or should not revise our penal system. This is another question.

But one thing I certainly stick to—the "pusher" who tricks your teen-ager into trying or buying narcotics should get at least 30 years, without parole—or perhaps a death sentence. What do you think?

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

The holidays are over—but the memories linger on—and SUCH lovely memories they are, too. For instance, take the "Holiday in the Tropics" party given by the Clarence Coopers of Orinda.

The many late Sunday afternoon guests must have become slightly more than suspicious as they approached the Cooper home, for the strains of "The Hawaiian Wedding Song" filled the air—via loud speakers. Sure 'nuff, when all were there, the clear voice of "Scudder Brown" called for attention and with a toast to the happy couple, he announced the engagement of lovely Mary Cooper to tall, handsome Jack Stoffel.

And then the news was announced . . .

Mary, a dream in shining, green faille, excitedly told of their wedding to be held on May 30 in Orinda. Jack (son of the John L. Stoffels) is connected with the Sunset Development Company in Livermore.

There couldn't be two people who love to entertain more than Helen and Carl Davis—but because of illness in the family—this has been impossible lately. AT LAST the day came and around 60 friends were invited to their UNIQUE "Adobe House" in Lafayette to which they moved last August. Of all things, Carl had systematically split the trunk of their Christmas tree and one side was on the outside of the center, large window—the other on the inside. Heavy flocked with white and hung with red oranments, it was flooded on the interior and exterior.

Truly—as splendid sight and how the guests did rave about all of the decor and the sumptuous buffet as they clustered around the punch bowl.

Vivian and Bill Roberts of Walnut Creek have had, as their house guests, Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Roberts of Monnet, Miss. Of course, Christmas was a delight, what with the grandchildren and all, but another highlight was an evening in San Francisco for the two couples who celebrated BOTH of their anniversaries by dining in the "Redwood Room" at the "Clift Hotel" and then attending "Crazy October."

THESE HONEYMOONERS are Mr. and Mrs. David B. Williamson, shown about to leave for Oregon following a wedding ceremony performed December 27 in the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church. The bride, Terree Helene, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Towers, Lafayette; the groom's parents, also Lafayette residents, are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williamson.

And doing the same thing were . . .

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Thompson of Orinda chose exactly the same itinerary for their 33rd anniversary. Accompanying them were close friends Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vargus. The three couples stayed overnight at the "Clift" following the theatre.

Gene and Barbara Arena's lovely home in Lafayette was glowing with holiday atmosphere for the members, and their guests, of the Cardinal Unit of the Therapy Center. In the beautifully decorated rumpus room—gaiety and laughter echoed from every nook and corner.

Any party, says Nancy Cassani, would be a huge success with such a charming host and hostess—explaining, no doubt, why the party went on and on. Some guests who attended were Rosemary and Jim Stonhaus, visitors from Fresno, Dolores and Joe Neal and Betty and Fred Gore. Lynn Dini and Joyce Marino were responsible for the delicious assortment of hors d'oeuvres and Carol Hodges and Peggy Smith were responsible for "decking the halls (literally) with boughs of holly"—plus hundreds of colorful ornaments.

Lorraine and Dick Olsen joined a large group of relatives at Lorraine's grandmother's home in San Jose where the center of interest was the Olsen's tiny, fair, five months old doll, Claudia Ann. Three year old John took top honors in 'displaying' his sister. for a nice, safe, pot-luck type party. The other couples were the On New Year's eve the Olson's new home was the warm setting Harold Vincents, Bob Swithenbanks and David Pennas.

Visiting the younger set

Mrs. Frank Loder of Long Beach has been with her daughter and son-in-law, the Frank Lords, of Lafayette, for about three weeks. On New Years day the whole family, including young Susan and Frank, Jr., lunched at "Trader Vic's" in the City and then visited the Planetarium and the Tea Garden in Golden Gate Park. Last Thursday, Dorothy Lord's luncheon-bridge club gathered at her home.

Most of the members are former Sun Valley neighbors. They are the Mmes. William Reeves, William Johnston, Phillip Carmona, Robert Pound, William Uhelan, Edward Crump and Richard Schimmel.

Another group (friends who have met for many years) gathered at Jackie (Mrs. Ferris) Fain's Cherry Lane home for luncheon and bridge on Wednesday. They were the Mmes. Robert Beconcine, Frank Lord, William McGuire, Fred Costello, Armand Werle, Don Edminster and William Phelan.

Friends for many, many years, too (how OLD can they be?) are four couples who met at the Bill McGuires home the other night for dinner and bridge. The others hail from Centerville and all strive to get together once each month.

Lousy Game, but Wonderful Trip

The Larry Dodges and the R. K. Dodges had a wonderful time when they spent five days in southern California. We don't TALK about the Rose Bowl game—but later that evening spirits were revived with a delightful evening at the "House of Murphy." The foursome stayed in Glendale.

Gen and Larry report that there was a terrific turn out for Dick Donovan the other night. Larry is the new president of this the Pleasant Hill Rotary open house at the home of Alma and growing organization. The Sam Bradbards were there, too, as were the Bill Sharkeys and Ed Frenchs. One large group headed Clayton-ward, followingt hep arty, for dinner at "Chubby Humble's."

lightful Christmas breakfast at their home. Present were friends

Vivacious Molly Szybalski was telling about a hectically-de- who reside at the "Claremont Hotel." They, in turn, brought holiday guests—a fascinating couple from Chili. A little bit of several languages was used in an effort towards mutual understanding—with results almost nil—except for hilarious laughter and a warm, warm feeling among all.

On N. Y. eve the same six dinner-danced in the Garden Room at the Claremont and enjoyed a midnight snack in the Chilean's rooms. Terry and Ralph Ligon and sons, Larry and David spent a week "down south" with headquarters in "Flintridge" near Pasadena. While there they spent an evening or two with the Floyd Burrors and Gorrill Butlers, also of Lafayette.

Naturally the BIG game, Disneyland and Marine Land were "musts"! The Walt Youngs headed southward, too, as did the Bill Coffeys with sons, Ken and Steve. Jinny and Fred Latham have had, as house guests, Fred's parents from Boise, Idaho. One night the four dined in San Francisco and attended "South Pacific." Another time, Mrs. Latham, Sr., was honored with a "Coffee" given by Jinny.

Just a few who were there . . .

Some of the guests were: Frances Gannon, Gloria Maloney, Gerry Hatfield, Jessie Dalstead, Judy Downs, Eleanor Meacham, Lucille English, Ruth Shaup (who brought an aunt from Kentucky), Mildred Elgert, Ruth Gonzales, Jean Wilcox and her mother-in-law from Pittsburg.

New Year's Eve was spent at the "Willows" by these three couples: the Fred Lathams, H. C. Dolstads and Roger Downs who described it as the best yet — loving the food, music and entire atmosphere of the place.

WC Women's Club to Hold Annual Book Breakfast

The annual Book Breakfast is one of the most out-standing events of each year for club members and their guests of the Women's Club of Walnut Creek.

Plans have been made this year by Mrs. D. Barclay Welca, chairman, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Arthur Gof, to be held Tuesday.

Breakfast will be served at 10:30 a.m. at the clubhouse on Lincoln Avenue, followed by the program of the day.

Marjorie Washington, a dramatic reader, will read the New York play, "Look Homeward Angel." Her "one person interpretation and presentation retain all the essence of the drama," according to Mrs. Gof, who will present the program for the day.

The tables will be gayly decorated in the New Year theme of pastel flowers, confetti, and serpentine under the direction of Mrs. Neleta H. Riger and assisted by Mrs. Ivar A. Lindberg.

Mrs. George Fox and her committee, Mrs. Alford Beers and Mrs. Leonard P. Worthington, will be in charge of the menu and preparation of the breakfast.

Others serving on various committees are Mesdames Barney K. Gilbert, Arthur J. Leonard, George H. Wheatley, Robert Samuels, William Menegus, Eugene G. Bodway, Don W. Nicholson, Ray C. Turner, Charles Spears, Cecil Jensen, C. M. Conklin, Robert Freeman, N. S. Stephens and Marie Fox.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Leonard Seclef and Mrs. Fred Samm.

Gowned Contra Costans Junior League Paraders

By MARIE MONAHAN

Local members of the Oakland Junior League were among the participants in the annual Western Regional Conference of the Association of Junior Leagues of America convening this week at the Claremont Hotel.

It was the first time in the 24-year history of the Junior League of Oakland that the local group has hostessed this annual function, which drew delegates from the 12 leagues in regions reaching south to Tucson and over to Honolulu.

THEME OF THE conference business sessions, officially opening on Wednesday morning in the Claremont's Empire Room was "Our Future in Retrospect" with Mrs. Charles F. Jonas, a past president of the local league, serving as chairman.

From this county on her committee were the Mmes. Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek, the league's only past president residing in this area, and Warren Yager and Jefferson Larken, both of Orinda.

SERVING AS delegates of the Oakland Junior League at the 3-day business and social sessions were Mrs. Robert (Janet) Angell and Mrs. Bruce (Jeannette) Howard, both of Orinda; Mrs. William (Patty) Channell and Mrs. Oliver (Virginia) Hamlin of Lafayette as well as Mrs. Donald (Doshie) Sleeper of Walnut Creek.

On the social side, a very sumptuous fashion show of international styles took place at the Claremont Country Club following dinner, and earlier cocktails at the Piedmont home of the Herbert Gray Hills Jr., where Doryce (Veitch) Hills hosted conference delegates to a pre-dinner gathering.

Promenading in various ensembles and costumes another of the Veitch sisters, Nancy (Mrs. Luis) de Herrera, collected when she was on a world tour as America's Ambassadress of Fashion, were the Mesdames Jack Dana and William E. Allen Jr., Lafayette, and Ridgway Woodburn, Danville.

"TEA FOR THREE" could be caption for this photo by Sun Photographer Erwin Mattson except that, he explains, it was really coffee, and very good coffee, too. From left, miladies are the Mesdames Kenneth H. Holland, a vice president of the Junior Alliance of Children's Foster Care; Robert Haaf, work group coordinator, and William A. Ingram, social chairman. All live in Orinda. They're discussing the Junior Alliance annual fashion show to be held in May at Hotel Claremont.

AAUW Plans Visit by CAP 'Educator'

The January meeting of the Walnut Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women will be a dinner Wednesday at 7 p.m. at El Nido Rancho Restaurant, 3946 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

Husbands and friends are welcome.

Speaker will be Mrs. Coral Bloom, lieutenant colonel in the Civil Air Patrol in charge of aviation education for the Pacific Region which includes Alaska, Hawaii, Washington, Oregon, California and Nevada.

She has held this position for eight years and is also in charge of the CAU aviation cadet program which is an exchange student program, attempting, among other things, to foster international understanding. She holds the highest possible rank for a pilot. "Command Pilot," has flown for 15 years and has logged over 3000 hours.

Mrs. Bloom has been, and will be again this year, director of a workshop assisting teachers in broadening their knowledge of aviation thus enabling them to encourage and direct their students.

For reservations please call Rosemarie Nickel or Sylvia Doryland by tomorrow.

Plans White Elephant Fete

On January 17, Almona Chapter No. 214, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a monthly business and ritualistic meeting to be presided over by Vera Vaile Foss, worthy matron, and Shirley Peakes, worthy patron.

At the close of this meeting, members and guests of the chapter will enjoy a "White Elephant Party." Persons attending are requested to bring a white elephant gift to exchange.

Dining room decorations and refreshments for the evening are under Mrs. Ethel Turner, associate matron of the chapter. The following committee will assist her: Josephine Dawson, chairman; Dorothy Walker.

All members of the Order are invited to attend the ceremony.

On January 20 Almona Chapter will join with other chapters of the 28th district and honor the worthy grand matron and worthy grand patron of the State of California when they pay their official visit at Masonic Temple, Martinez.

All members of the order are invitedto attend the ceremony.

Every Wednesday starting at 10 a.m. members meet at the cancer dressing station at Danille to make dressings for patients needing same, and any member may join in this work and any further information may be obtained from any officer of the chapter.

Mardi Gras Is Theme of 'Suddenly'

Irene Sargent, East Bay couturiere, will present her new collection of spring fashions at the Immaculata Guild of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Walnut Creek, annual luncheon and fashion show, "Suddenly It's Spring."

Castlewood Country Club, February 10 at 12 noon is the site, date and time of this showing of exciting and smart fashions.

"Mardi Gras" is the theme, and Decorations Chairmen Mesdames Charles Diers and Peter Iovin promise a true "New Orleans" spirit.

Wilma Wright will commentate and Mrs. Wilfred Gillespie will provide the music accompaniment.

Tickets are available from Mrs. William James and Mrs. Charles Henry. Proceeds will benefit the St. Mary's school building fund.

DECORATIONS will be lavish at the annual Vintage Festival to be held January 24 from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Turf Club, Golden Gate Fields, for the benefit of Children's Hospital of the East Bay. Holding a poster of grapes are the Mesdames Dennis Horgan and William E. Snyder, both Lafayette members of Fir Branch, among sponsors of event.

Book Review Draws Crowd to Center Building

Nearly 90 people attended the first of three book reviews at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center in Lafayette, on January 7.

In charge of refreshments were Mrs. A. Weisberg and Mrs. Harry Lotzkar. Mesdames Harold Bloom and Arthur Scharlach assisted with coffee and tea. The chairman for the review is Mrs. Morris Collen.

"The enthusiastic reception and success of these reviews has made it quite evident that the women of this community want the same cultural advantages afforded their city sisters and the League of Jewish Women looks forward to making this annual event," said Mrs. Collen.

The second book to be reviewed by Dr. H. Hirsch Cohen, rabbi, is "The Secret," by Alba de Cespedes. This review will take place February 4 at 1:30 at the Center Building.

For tickets call Mrs. Irving Leiber, Mrs. Morris Collen or Mrs. William Weinstock.

Today and all next week finds a full round of activity in the prep sports circuit.

Wrestling takes to the mat this afternoon when San Ramon meets with Las Lomas at Walnut Creek in a 3:30 affair.

Acalanes and Miramonte met at Acalanes yesterday afternoon.

Pleasant Hill engaged in a three way go with Pacifica and Castro Valley at Pacifica Wednesday afternoon.

Tuesday finds a round of Foothill Division matches on tap with the Acalanes team traveling to San Ramon High while Las Lomas is at Miramonte.

This afternoon finds the Pleasant Hill Rams hosting Miramonte while Wednesday they meet Pacifica there in a league match.

Tuesday, the Foothill Division matches on hand are Acalanes at San Ramon and Las Lomas at Miramonte.

LAS LOMAS will go at Acalanes and San Ramon at Miramonte next Friday.

In basketball, Acalanes plays a practice night game at DeAnza High of Richmond with the Bees opening at 7.

The Rams of Pleasant Hill swing into action again after upsetting Diablo in the league opener last Friday night when they go to Pacifica with the Bees opening at 7 p.m.

They will be out to take sole possession of first place. Pacifica upset Pittsburg so the two are currently undefeated in league play. Tonight will be a crucial for both clubs.

ACALANES DRAWS a bye in tonight's Foothill Division play, but tonight Las Lomas hosts San Ramon at 7 while Miramonte goes to Piedmont with the Bees going at 3:30.

Tuesday, with games starting at 3:30, the Foothill play finds Acalanes at Piedmont and San Ramon playing at Miramonte.

Wednesday, Pleasant Hill courtmen travel to Martinez for a pair of practice tilts with the Alhambra Bulldogs and return to league play next Friday when they host Pittsburg in which could be the big one as far as both teams are concerned.

Play next Friday in the Foothill League finds Las Lomas at Miramonte and Acalanes at San Ramon to wind up the week's schedule.

Rams Nab Historic Event; Knock off Red Devil Quint

The Pleasant Hill Rams playing on their home court in the league opener last Friday night really gave the hometown fans something to yell about when they upset Diablo High 34-23.

The win over Diablo varsity was the first in the school's history and to top it off, put the Rams into first place in the league standing with Antioch who toppled Clayton Valley 42-37 and Pacifica which pulled a surprise 44-43 win over Pittsburg.

THE DIABLO five had trouble finding the hoop all night long and while the Rams held a squeeky 6-5 lead in the first quarter they whipped it to 22-11 at the half, and were never in trouble the rest of the way holding a 26-18 advantage at the close of the third canto.

The Rams' Bill Locatelli took individual scoring honors when he bagged 15 points while Diablo's best was Bill Racine with seven.

Ron Yamamota helped the winners with crucial points in the second quarter that put the Rams in front while Bill March played sterling defensive ball particularly on the boards where he grabbed 11 of 26 rebounds.

Diablo collected 24 off the boards.

PLEASANT HILL hit from the free throw line with 11 out of 18 tries and Diablo tied into seven out of 24.

In field goals it was 12 out of 44 for the Rams and eight for 37 for the Red Devils.

Pleasant Hill made it an all winning night when their Bees, paced by Sammy Kaye, with 14 points, overcame a 15-11 halftime Diablo lead to go on to win 31-29.

Bill Rigney, Jay Bedsworth Shot Today for Diablo Country Club

Diablo Country Club will be more than well represented at the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament at Pebble Beach and Cypress Point this weekend.

Working the links will be Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants and Jay Bedsworth of the Tunnel Inn in Lafayette.

The tourney will be played at Monterey today, tomorrow and Sunday.

Acalanes Upsets Favored Miramonte Five on Woods

The Miramonte Matadors tasted the bitter dregs of defeat for the first time this season when the Acalanes Dons beat them in a 38-29 score in a hard fought game played at the Acalanes gym Tuesday afternoon.

The Dons knocked over in their first league outing Friday by Las Lomas put themselves back in contention by virtue of the win over the pre-season favored Miramonte five.

THE GAME FEATURED stiff defensive play on the part of both clubs and while Acalanes held a slight edge throughout the game, it really wasn't iced until the closing minutes when the Dons capitalized on free throws garnering eight points that wrote in the win.

Acalanes took a 10-7 first quarter lead and made it 22-13 at the half only to have the Mats come surging back in the third period when they put on a pressing defense that slowed Acalanes down to a meager four points on a lone field goal by Mel Simpson and a pair of free throws for George McMeans.

The Matadors closed the gap in the period when they collected 11 points on two field goals by Bill Houston plus five points by John Coffey on two field goals and a pair of free throws along with a field goal by Tim Crawford.

THAT TOOK CARE of the period ending up 26-24 with the Dons just hanging on.

In the fourth and final stanza each club hit for two field goals, but the Dons widened the gap from the free throw line. The Dons hit eight out of nine and Miramonte batted one for one.

The point getters for Acalanes were Mel Simpson, 13; Bill Young, four; Paul Colin, eight; George McMeans, 10 and Don Nelson, three.

SCORERS for Miramonte were Tim Crawford, five; John Coffey, 11; Bill Houston, four; Floyd Blaney, three; and Randy Young, six.

In the lightweight preliminary, the Don little men posted win number two to stay undefeated in league play with a 34-25 win.

Wrestlers Hit By Tennyson Hi

The Acalanes Junior Varsity wrestling team lost a 36-16 decision to Tennyson High of Hayward Tuesday afternoon.

The matches were held at Acalnaes and found the Dons winning but four matches in the 12-event card.

The defeat marked the first loss this year for Acalanes in mat competition.

Boat Owners Must Register Crafts

Every boat owner operating his boat on any waters in the State of California must register his boat or boats with the County Assessor each year in the County where his boat is habitually kept.

This registration must be made during the month of January.

Those who have previously registered their boat should complete the application for renewal on Page 3 of the 1959 registration certificate and mail it to C. L. Dunklee, County Assessor, Court House, Martinez, California.

For those who have not previously registered their boat, or have lost their registration—contact Dunklee requesting the necessary forms to complete the registration. There is no charge for this registration.

Dunklee stated that swimming and boating are becoming increasingly popular and serious accidents are resulting from the congestion.

Protection for the boat owner and his passengers is given through the registration requirements by providing easier identification of boats which violate State or local laws by reckless or negligent operators.

Anyone desiring further information may contact the County Assessor at any time.

There'll Be Some Changes Made on the Old Gridiron

By ERWIN MATTSON

The rules committee for high school football will meet shortly and make changes deemed necessary on the basis of questionnaires sent out annually at the close of the season.

One of the proposals is to move the goal line, another to move it two yards back of the goal line and have a six foot overhang so that the crossbar would be over the goal line.

IT SEEMS to be that moving the high school goal posts from their present position on the end zone line would be a mistake.

When they are on the goal line they provide a definite hazard for players. Such a change would involve expense and trouble in the moving of the goal posts throughout the county.

Posts would have to be padded and a number of injuries would be bound to occur.

THE ANSWER to my way of thinking doesn't lie in moving the goal posts, but rather in changing the scoring system.

The object of moving them is to bring the toe back into prep football scoring.

Why not give two points for a conversion kick and one for running or passing it over the goal line on the try for point?

MAKE IT FOUR points for a field goal and watch the toe come back into action.

See where Norm Van Brocklin tossed the winning touchdown pass in the All-Star Pro Game at LA.

Van, who was known as "Stub" in his prep days at Acalanes, is one of the real veteran quarterbacks of pro football and appears destined for a few more seasons of active play.

Meeting of Minds

Fitzpatrick Keeps Keg League Lead

Maintaining its league lead of two games, Fitzpatrick Chevrolet team won three games from Diablo Bowling Supply in their latest match. High for the winners was Sadie Heath with a 483 series.

Helen Knott with a 223 game shared high series honors with Anne Freitas for the losers. Both girls rolled 533 series.

Mac's Shell Service Station who is in second place took three games from Ralph's Drugs. High series for the winners was rolled by Jean Flagg with a 530, and a 522 series was rolled by Lil Hefner for the losers.

Behind Merle Ferre's 204 game and 476 series, Johnson Ant Control won three points from Thomas Accounting. Mary Major rolled a 492 series for the losers.

With Nancy Leonard's 202 game and Cam Bowersmith's 491 series, Pacheco Inn split with Doug Dicker team whose Trixie Dearing bowled a 485 series.

Modern Eve took three games from the Paddock Coffee Shop. High for the winners was Rita Ricetti with a 499 series.

In the match between Della Pippa and Monument Bowl, Della Pippa won all four points behind Lil Martinez's 532 series and Dene St. George's 527 series.

For the losers Marge Sanchez was high with a 465 series.

Bridge Lessons

The Goran system is used at these bridge lessons. Registration is at the Recreation Center office. $4 pays for 8 lessons.

Bridge lessons are sponsored by the City of Walnut Creek Recreation Department.

Knight Courtmen Trounce Don Hoopsters in Thriller

The Las Lomas Knights, playing a steady game, won their league opener against Acalanes Friday night when they outscored the Acalanes Dons 45-35.

The game was far closer than the final score indicated as the two arch rivals were close until the final quarter when the Knights put on a 14 point third quarter to outdistance the Dons who managed but nine points in the same period.

BOTH CLUBS stressed defense in the opening frame which Las Lomas won 6-5 and made 21-14 at the half.

Acalanes pulled up two points in the third quarter when they outscored the visitors 12-10, but in the final period, the Knights pulled away when Clark Ransome hit for six points on a pair of field goals and two free throws.

Bob Gomez added a free throw and Tom Nichols added two more from the free throw while Jim Sisler hit on a field goal to round out the scoring.

THE KNIGHTS PLAYED a steady game in notching the win with Dave Weill controlling the boards and Ransome proving to be the big point getter with 18 on six field goals and six free throws.

Paul Colin topped the Don's scorers with an even 12 markers.

The game stamped Las Lomas as a definite pennant contender as they displayed a good all around floor game and looked good on the boards.

The Knights hit for 12 out of 32 from the floor, the Don's 11 for 38. In the free throw department, the Knights held a 23-13 margin.

Concannon is Contractors' President; McAdam, Veep

George Concannon, Walnut Creek homebuilder, was elected president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County at the first meeting of the 1959 Board of Directors.

Concannon served as chairman of the membership and finance committee of the Association during 1958. He was elected to head the contractors group based on his capable leadership of these committees, said Frederick Kracke, executive vice president.

Robert McAdam of Orinda was elected vice president and W. L. "Bud" Netherby of Walnut Creek was elected secretary-treasurer.

Directors are Johnson Clark, Jack Eyman, Jack Marchant and Kermit L. Lincoln of Lafayette, John Osmundsen of Walnut Creek and Bert E. Dawe, Concord.

Named as national directors of the National Association of Home Builders, of which the Contra Costa group is an affiliate, were Kermit L. Lincoln and Allan Fuller of Lafayette.

Lincoln and Fuller will attend the NAHB Board of Directors meeting to be held in Chicago, Illinois, starting today. Alternate National Directors are Robert McAdam and W. L. Netherby.

Lincoln and Fuller were named as delegates to the Home Builders Council of California. George Concannon, Kracke, Jack Eyman and Bert Dawe are alternates.

10-Year Review of Schools Shows Enrollment Jump

The frantic '40's led to the fantastic '50's for Contra Costa high schools, a 10-year review of enrollment figures by County Superintendent Floyd Marchus' office indicates.

Today's enrollment in most individual high school plants surpasses the entire high school population of 1948-49 in both the Mt. Diablo Unified and Acalanes Union High School Districts.

Each district then had but one high school building. Mt. Diablo High School in 1948-49—the last year of its operation before the district unified — had an enrollment of 1143, compared with the present 1843, plus 1722 at Pleasant Hill High School and another 1600 at Clayton Valley and Pacifica combined. Acalanes enrolled 837 a decade ago Current attendance is 1263 at Acalanes, 1268 at Las Lomas and 863 at Miramonte.

During the decade the number of junior high schools in the county increased from six to 15, the latter figure including six schools for 7th and 8th graders, termed "intermediate" schools. The county total of junior-senior high school students in the 10 years rose from 15,240 to 34,135.

Healthy New Year is TB Group's Wish

A "Healthful New Year" for residents of Contra Costa County is the wish of the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association in 1959.

This years program of TB control work of the TB Association depends entirely on the funds raised from the sale of Christmas Seals during the past Holiday season.

Even though the Christmas Seal Sale is officially closed, late returns are still being accepted by the Association.

Voluntary contribution of $47,113.48 have been received to date by the Association. This is 20 per cent behind last years total contributions.

In order to carry on a complete and expanded program in finding TB cases, medical research, health education, rehabilitation and services to the patients, volunteers are addressing reminder envelopes for residents of the County.

In the rush of the holiday season many people overlook their contribution. The reminder envelopes being mailed are a convenient return envelope for those people who misplaced their original envelope.

Assisting the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association in this effort to obtain adequate funds for the years work are; The Crest View Junior Women's Club of Pleasant Hill, Mrs. Marion De Weerd, chairman; Mt. Diablo Junior Women's Club of Concord, Mrs. Keith Leonard, chairman; Lioness Club of Martinez, Mrs. Ann Connolly, chairman; and Mrs. Glenna Herod of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Henry Carr of Martinez.

FIGHTING SLEEP

Never fight sleep at the wheel of your car, surrender to it off the road, says the California State Automobile Association.

Trustees to Hold Dinner, Thursday

Trustees of elementary and high schools within the Acalanes High School District area have been invited to a dinner next Thursday night at 6:30 in the Acalanes High School cafeteria

Present will be trustees and administrators of Acalanes District, including Acalanes, Las Lomas and Miramonte High, Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda School Districts.

The dinner is usually an informal event, and allows the elected and appointed representatives a chance to talk over problems common to schools in the area.

Floyd Marchus will be an honored guest. The trustees will discuss their calendars for the year.

St. Mary's Has Oil Exhibition

St Mary's Keith Gallery has opened an exhibit of oils by Mark M. Hall of Berkeley. Fifteen of the paintings are hung in the contemporary section of the Gallery, and six more are displayed in the College library

One of the Bay Area's well-known artists, Hall has exhibited at the Oakland Art Museum, the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, the State Fair, the Santa Cruz and Laguna Beach Galleries. His work has been accepted for the current Society of Western Artists Annual in the M. de Young Museum.

While still in high school, and later for some years professionally, Hall was an illustrator, but soon turned to oil painting He studied at the Mark Hopkins Institute and under Harry C Best, William Horton and recently with Ray Strong.

The Keith Gallery is open on Sundays from 2 to 4 p m. and by appointment, and the library during the usual daily library hours and also Sundays 2 to 5 p.m

The exhibit will run through March 1.

Chico-Type CD Test May Come To This County

A "miniature" Civil Defense practice alert, following the pattern of the Chico evacuation, may be "in the cards" for Contra Costa County, Walnut Creek Civil Defense Assistant Director R. J. Bourke told the city council last week.

Bourke said that the Chico evacuation was considered successful, and there has been talk of a similar effort in this area.

He added that in any future practice alert, Parkmead School alone will not be considered sufficient as the emergency medical center, and every school in the district may have first aid and medical stations.

The last simulated Civil Defense test in the Walnut Creek area was not considered a success, he said.

He added that the alert signal may become a "raucus blast" rather than the siren, which is hard to hear and to distinguish from fire and police signals, at a distance.

In the Chico test, one attitude by the residents involved was particularly annoying, Bourke said.

An often-heard question was, "If I am evacuated, will I have quarters and foodstuffs commensurate with my station in life?"

Bourke said, "There is more of that than you think."

He added that there is a problem of adjustment during the tests between the receiving families and evacuating families, where outlying homes become the "hosts."

Heart Group's Course for Doctors Told

Program for the Sixth Annual Postgraduate Course for Physicians given by the Contra Costa County Heart Association was announced this week by Dr. Charles Hart of Walnut Creek, chairman of the Professional Education Committee.

An eight-session course will start February 2. Dr. Samuel N. Etheredge, consultant in peripheral vascular diseases at U. S. Naval Hospital, Oakland and Alameda County institutions, will be speaker.

He will discuss "Recent Advances in Treatment of Peripheral Vascular Disease".

Meetings will be held at Contra Costa County Hospital in Martinez on scheduled Monday evenings.

Speaker on February 9 will be Dr. Carrie E. Chapman, chief of rehabilitation, V.A. Hospital, Oakland. Subject will be "Physical Therapy of Common Musculoskeletal Disorders".

Pear, Peach Growers to Nominate

The growers of Bartlett pears, Elberta peaches and nectarines will nominate their committeemen January 29 at 2 p.m. at the Walnut Growers Association meeting.

The announcement of the meeting was made by the Control Committee of the California Tree Fruit Agreement, the State Department of Agriculture and the Nectarine Administrative Committee.

The growers will nominate their representatives for the Barlett Pear and Elberta Peach Commodity Committees of the agreement, for the advisory boards of the two State Marketing Orders for Fresh Bartlett Pears and the Nectarine Administrative Committee.

ALL GROWERS OF Bartlett pears, Elbertas and nectarines have been urged to be present at this meeting

Contra Costa County Bartlett growers will nominate one member and alternate to the Bartlett Pear Commodity Committee, one member and alternate to the advisory board for the Promotion of Fresh Bartlett Pears, and one member and alternate to the advisory board for Fresh Bartlett Pears.

In each of these three Barlett programs, Contra Costa County has been combined with certain other counties for the purpose of rerpesentation.

The representatives may be chosen from any of the counties in the combined area.

CONTRA COSTA County Elberta and nectarine growers are "likewise" for the purposes of representation combined with Elberta and nectarine growers from certain other districts

At the Walnut Creek meeting, one member and alternate will be nominated for the Elberta Committee and one member and alternate will be nominated for the Nectarine Committee.

The Elberta Peach Commodity Committee is composed of seven members, the Bartlett Pear Commodity Committee has 12 members and the Nectarine Committee has eight members.

The function of these committees is to recommend grade and size regulations to the secretary of agriculture which, if approved, become laws governing the movement of these fruits.

BARTLETT PEAR and Elberta regulations issued under the California Tree Fruit Agreement apply only to interstate shipments but nectarine regulations cover all shipments of nectarines, both within and out of California.

The advisory board for Fresh Bartlett Pears, composed of seven growers and five distributors, is the body which recommends grade and size regulations to cover intrastate shipments of Bartlett pears.

The recommendations of this board are made to the director of agriculture for the State of California, and if the recommended regulations are approved and issued, they are enforcible in state courts.

The advisory board for the Promotion of Fresh Bartlett Pears is the body which administers the Bartlett Pear Promotion program.

The board includes 16 growers and six handlers. The promotion program covers all California Bartlett pears which are marketed in fresh form, either within the state or in interstate commerce.

Rebekahs Will Install Walterine Christiansen

Walnut Rebekah Lodge No. 320 will install new officers for 1959 on January 24 at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple.

District Deputy President Lettie Gibbs and her staff and District Deputy Grand Master Henry Brill and staff of Pittsburg will install the officers.

Installing Musician will be Juanita Baker. The flag escorts will be the Junior Odd Fellows No. 8 of Concord.

Walnut Rebekah No. 320 officers to be installed are as follows:

The drill team of the Los Medanos Lodge No. 116 of Pittsburg will perform during the evening.

Special music will be by Mr. Marshall Maguire accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Maguire. The closing prayer will be sung by Milton Kizer accompanied by Mrs. Maguire.

Doris Michna is general chairman of the installation and Faye Gibson is in charge of decorations.

Middle East Expert to Talk At First Forum

The Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum will hold its opening program of the Spring Series on January 27 at the Diablo Country Club.

The public is invited to attend the lecture of Dr. George Lenczowski, noted authority on the Middle East, associate professor of political science at the University of California and consultant to Standard Oil on Mid-East affairs.

Polish born and a naturalized United States citizen, he speaks Arabic as well as the many European languages which aid him during his yearly visits to the Mid-East.

HIS LAST trip to Lebanon was before the uprising. He escaped the tragic fate of several other Californians in that area.

Author of current books including "Russia and the West in Iran" and the "Middle East in World Affairs," Dr. Lenczowski will bring to the Forum first hand information on an area so vital to the economy and political future of the world, say sponsors.

Mrs. Hubert Prost was hostess to the board of directors at her home in Ygnacio Valley when the members met recently to discuss plans for the Spring Series.

THE SERIES will also present Dr. Shan Wing Chan on February 17, speaking on "US and Communist China."

Dr. Frederick Peters will be guest speaker at the evening program scheduled for March 10. His subject will be "Berlin — Political Barometer of the World."

The final program April 21 will be given by Mme. Suzanne Silvercrys, sculptor, philosopher and humorist.

Any single program or the complete series will be open to the public and tickets may be obtained at the door the morning of the meeting.

Coffee will be served before each program at 10 a.m., and the lecture will start at 10:30.

"SUGAR AND SPICE"

Little girls are made of "sugar and spice and everything nice," but what are those big cars made of? According to the National Automobile Club they're made of more than fifty animal, vegetable, and mineral products, among the most common being rubber, steel, aluminum, glass, oil, and plastics.

Planned China Theme

The annual Fashion Tea by the women of St. Paul's Episcopal Church is planned for January 31 at the Parish Hall, 1924 Trinity Avenue, Walnut Creek, Chairman Mrs. J. F Burns announced.

This year's theme, "Chinese Fantasy," is under the direction of Norma Da-Len of Chinatown, and will feature ancient Chinese robes and gowns and the stories that go with them, as well as modern clothes adapted from the Chinese influence.

A Chinese tea will follow the show which begins at 2 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased from any woman member of St. Paul's or at the door. Admission is $2 per person. Ticker chairman is Mrs William Palmer.

Working with Mrs Burns on the style show are Mrs. William Platt, president of the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Paul's Parish; Mesdames E. G. Craig, arrangements; Russel Giles, commentator; Don Rowe, tea; G. T. Harter, decorations; Gordon E. Frazell, models and James Sears, publicity.

INTERCITY TRAVEL

Of all intercity travel done in the United States during 1957, 88 per cent was done by automobile, reports the National Automobile Club.

WATER AND OIL

In many remote and arid locations, points out the National Automobile Club, the cost of hauling water for drilling with muds may amount to tens of dollars per oil well.

GardenChairman Is Speaker for Alamo Women

The monthly luncheon of the Alamo Women's Club will be held January 28. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Mitchell, state garden chairman.

The luncheon committee has Mesdames T. Cline, L. Stark, B. Bennet, M. Edmunds, G. Driver, A. Barker, L. Davitt, F. Dolan, F. Burnett, C. Cunningham.

Wednesday is the date of the regular card party to be held at the clubhouse. Dessert will be served at 12 noon.

Juke Box Saturday Night Set

The Meadowbrook Golf Club on Reliez Valley Road will hold an informal, no-host dance January 24, "Juke Box Saturday Night."

Members only will attend.

Larry Mancour, club pro, was to try his luck on qualifying day in the Bing Crosby Pebble Beach tournament.

Reservations for January 24 have been made by Messrs. and Mmes. James Clark and Fred Guarneri, Orinda; Neal Galvin, Lafayette, and Arthur Landers, Pleasant Hill.

N. C. Ross to Head Highway, Transit Group

President L. E. Carbert of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association announced today that he had completed the organization of the newly-created Highways and Transit Committee.

This committee, which will be headed by N. C. Ross, chief engineer of Dow Chemical Company and a resident of Concord, will study the highway and transit problems of the cities and county government and make recommendations upon policy stands to the Board of Directors.

Other members of the committee appointed by Carbert are J. R. Mortenson, superintendent of personnel of Union Oil Company in Oleum; Henry L. Greene, plant manager of E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company in Antioch; C. F. Grady, tax manager of Standard Oil Company in Richmond; and Neal S. Higgins, training officer of Tidewater Oil Company in Avon.

Carbert said Ross had informed him that the Committee would begin its studies by a series of meetings with city and county highway and transit officials in preparation for more detailed studies on specific facets of the problems in this field.

Baldwin Agrees With Council On Zeus Site

Rep. John F. Baldwin has supported the Contra Costa County Park and Recreation Council in its opposition to location of a U.S. Army missile station within Mt. Diablo State Park.

In a letter to Secretary of the Army Brucker, Rep. Baldwin said that he is in agreement with a request made by William Drake, president of the Council, that the Army "give proper consideration to the protection of the recreational and scenic values of the area."

The United States Army is conducting a survey to determine location of a proposed Zeus missile site in the vicinity of Mt. Diablo. The Park and Recreation Council urged that the installation be placed without appropriating choice areas of future parkland or creating undesirable scars on the landscape.

Mrs. R. S. Banwell is Coop Art Ass'n New President

Making plans for the year 1959 are the newly elected officers and the board members of the Cooperative Art Association.

Mrs. R. S. Banwell has been elected president. She will be assisted by Mesdames Donald Waldman, vice-president; Evelyn Parsons, corresponding secretary for Walnut Creek; P. W. Hovey, corresponding secretary for Lafayette; R. J. Hill, recording secretary; E. R. Schneider, treasurer for Lafayette; E. F. Goins, treasurer for Walnut Creek; and M. F. Cecchini, membership at large.

The following members were appointed to the 1959 board: Mesdames Glen Max, purchasing agent; Rix Maurer Jr., assistant purchasing agent; Mrs. A. K. Lindsay, supply distributor for Lafayette; H. J. Strickland, supply distributor for Walnut Creek; Jean Regello, tea chairman; Mrs. John Myers, display and exhibits for Lafayette; Mrs. H. A. White, display and exhibits for Walnut Creek and Mrs. William Fry, photography.

This year the Cooperative Art Association will sponsor 11 afterschool art classes in Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

The classes are open to boys and girls in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades who are interested in art with a stress on drawing and painting.

The classes are held Wednesday afternoons in Fairview, Barton, Happy Valley, Lafayette, Montecito and Vallecito Schools in Lafayette and Buena Vista, Murwood, Parkmead, Walnut Creek and Walnut Heights Schools in Walnut Creek.

Organized 12 years ago with one art class, the Cooperative Art Association was first sponsored by the Junior League to encourage the study of fine art by children of the Contra Costa community.

Mrs. Peter Howard of Walnut Creek was one of the original sponsors and still is the teacher of the Walnut Creek School class.

The director of classes for 1959 is Mrs. A. R. Holland. Teachers and assistants are Mesdames Edmund Chambers, Orville Jones, Martha Johnson, M. S. Kirschner, R. B. Matthiesen, Marvin Bradley, John Leigh, L. Malloy, John Leigh, Edward Whitmore, C. E. Panton, Peter Howard and Lyle Beardsley.

Norm Betaque Is West Point 'Principal'

Congressman John F. Baldwin, representing Solano and Contra Costa Counties, announced today that he has appointed Norman E. Betaque, Jr., 1655 Diablo Vista Road, Alamo, as his principal appointee to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

The appointment was made upon the basis of examinations given by the Civil Service Commission in the California Sixth District, which Baldwin represents.

News releases announcing that this examination would be held were issued to all newspapers in the Sixth District and were sent to the Principal of every High School and Junior College in the Sixth District.

Newcomers Must Register Cars by Jan. 30

central county were warned this week that January 30, not February 4, is the deadline for registration of their motor vehicles.

Officials of the Department of Motor Vehicles said that persons whose out-of-state license plates expired on December 31 and who wish to register in California for 1959 are included.

Also, their vehicles must be inspected before registration.

Department offices will be open Saturday mornings in addition to regular hours until February 4, to aid customers. There are also auto clubs and associations and some banks which provide registration service in the state.

Why Go to Concerts? Residents Give Answers

Mrs. Dorothy Barrett, vice president of the Central Contra Costa Youh Concerts, told The Sun this week. "Favorable public opinion is of great importance to the success of Youth Concerts.

"In an effort to discover the reaction of the community, to the idea of a yearly concert, we contacted a group of people who had purchased tickets to the concerts in previous years. Their opinions were varied and interesting," she said.

Mrs. George Frank of Danville, who has had an extensive training in music and plays a number of instruments as well as doing vocal music, said, "I wish every child could hear them."

SHE ADDED, "No child who is studying music can have a goal without the experience of hearing fine musicians."

Mrs. William Bradley of Walnut Creek particularly liked the comments made by San Francisco Symphony Conductor Earl Murray. She said, "We are all interested and anxious to go again."

Mrs. Frank Biasco of Martinez commented, "When the first publicity appeared in January all those who had bought tickets last year phoned and asked that tickets be saved for them this year."

We thought that your programs were a much more suitable length for children than other such concerts we have attended, was the opinion of Mrs. Wayne Bailey of Alamo.

"IT'S WONDERFUL to have an opportunity in a suburban area like this to attend performances of this nature. Usually one expects to travel to San Francisco for such high caliber performances," was the comment of Mrs. Stephen White of Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. G. D. Dorough of Danville said her little girl loved the ballet and the band music.

Mrs. R. N. Colwell enjoyed the symphony most. Her two sons of high school age, play brasses and were interested in seeing and hearing them played in a symphonic group.

"I think it's a thrill to take one's children and enjoy the music together," was Mrs. Richard Huntoon's reaction.

"WE ARE thoroughly convinced that Youth Concerts are a fine thing to have in the community, and it is obvious that people enjoy them. We were interested in the demonstration of the percussion instruments and like the explanation given before each symphonic selection."

Mrs. Harold Oxsen of Walnut Creek has told her children about the forthcoming series of concerts. "It was a sheer joy for them to find tickets in the toes of their Christmas stockings."

Mrs. Kenneth Heiges of Pleasant Hill, very musical herself and wife of the instrumental music teacher at Pleasant Hill Intermediate School, has this to say of the Youth Concerts, "This is a wonderful opportunity which many areas don't have—the concerts are so accessible and so inexpensive.

"This is a fine opportunity for parents to encourage and to enrich the cultural experiences of their children and to help develop in their children the love of good music. Love and understanding of good music—once possessed—is something that can never be destroyed, lost or stolen.

MRS. BARRETT said, "Children accompanied by their parents tend to be much more enthusiastic than those who go alone.

"It gives them something to discuss later. This, in itself, is a fine reason to attend.

"Family discussions on a higher plane than the usual, 'What's for dinner?' or 'What did you do at school today?' variety are much to be desired.

"We can't expect our children to appreciate the finer things unless they see us doing it, too. No description of the pleasure of listening to music can make the impression of first-hand experience," Mrs. Barrett concluded.

Masons' Top Officers to Assemble

The Masters and Past Masters Association of Alameda and Contra Costa County will hold its annual meeting at the Madison Street Temple, 1433 Madison Street, Oakland, tomorrow at 6 p.m., according to Fred A. Blackwell, president.

The Association is composed of more than 1500 masters and past masters of all 64 Masonic Lodges in both counties, and for the past 46 consecutive years, has met regularly on the third Saturday in January.

Blackwell said that 64 newly installed masters of Masonic Lodges in both counties will be initiated into the organization.

Blackwell is being assisted by the following officers: Clarence A. Severin, Webster W. Wilcox Jr., Fred W. Wetmore, Kenneth H. McCutcheon, John A. Sobey, Walter F. Schab and Mynard Jones.

Participating in the program are the following area committeemen:

Lafayette: J. Harold McCrum, Harold E. Paull, Bayard H. Burnett.

Walnut Creek: Paul F. Ruff, O. J. Wohlgemuth, Verne W. Hendrix, Ralph M. Hinds, George S. Hansen, P. A. Slingsby.

Symposium of Executives Will Hear Gen. Clay

More than 76 leading national and western firms will be represented at the second Business and Industrial Executives Symposium, January 28 and 29 at Saint Mary's College, it was announced by Willard Keith, general chairman.

Themed to "The Executive and the America of Tomorrow" the unusual business conference will be opened with an address by General Lucius G. Clay, chairman of the Board, Continental Can Company.

It will be one of four major addresses, each implemented by small group discussions.

General Clay's talk will be followed the next day by speeches from Russell G. Smith, executive vice president, Bank of America; Neil Petree, president, Barker Brothers; and Dr. Mortimer J. Adler, director, Institute of Philosophical Research, San Francisco.

OIL DILUTION

Faulty automobile ignition causes misfiring which results in unburned fuel being washed down the cylinder walls into the crankcase where it dilutes the oil. The California State Automobile Association recommends that you have your car's ignition checked regularly.

'Hard Times' Is Meeting Theme

"Hard Times" will be the theme of the Seabury Club of St. Paul's Episcopal Church meeting to be held tonight at 7:30 in St. Paul's parish hall.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Lundquist are chairmen for the evening, assisted by Messrs. and Mmes. Richard L. Newhouse, Joseph A. DeBois, Robert H. Moore, Parley E. Anderson, Harry H. Gester and Fred LeClair.

New Course for Mothers-to-be Starts Thursday

The Acalanes Adult Center will begin a course for expectant mothers titled Mothercraft (Preparation for Childbirth) on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The class will meet in Room 503 at Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek each Thursday evening for two hours over a seven-week period.

The class will be under the direction of Mrs. Alyce Bowman, R.N. It will consist of lectures and directed exercises. The lectures will be on such topics as The Anatomy and Physiology of Pregnancy, Conduct of Labor and Delivery, Diet and Postnatal Care.

Guest speakers are also scheduled to appear throughout the course. These will be medical doctors who are specialists in the fields of obstetrics and pediatrics.

There will also be an exercise period at each class session, conducted by Mrs. Bowman, who is a registered physical therapist.

These exercises are designed to promote general relaxation, improve posture and strengthen those muscles which are so important for motherhood.

Highlight of the course will be a series of films prepared by Medical Arts Productions, Inc., dealing with the topics of Prenatal Care, Labor and Childbirth, Postnatal Care and a Normal Birth.

These films will be shown in coordination with the lectures previously mentioned.

"It is felt that the information presented in this course will be of interest to both expectant parents and, therefore, husbands are encouraged to attend the lectures with their wives," Mrs. Bowman said.

For further information call the Adult Office.

Republicans Attend Meet

Contra Costa County Republican Chairman Jack Pedder and members of the Central Committee attended the meeting of the State Central Committee last week-end at San Mateo.

The program offered by George Milias, State Republican president, was for a new Republican "image" to be presented to the voter through coordinated and intensified publicity

Attending the meeting with Pedder were Mrs. Jean Bates of Lafayette, assistant state secretary; Mrs. Lora Hayden of Concord, county secretary; Mrs. Hugh Miller of Danville, county precinct chairman, and Mr. Miller, Lew Sperling, county committee member and Mrs. Sperling of Concord.

MUMMIFIED

Mummified remains of Apache Indians have been found in caves along the scenic Apache Trail east of the desert resort of Phoenix in Arizona, reports the National Automobile Club. The bodies were buried in the caves centuries ago by marauding tribes.

Marchus Outlines Changes In County Schools Office

Newly installed County Superintendent of Schools Floyd Marchus, whose assumption of the office marks the first change in the superintendency in 26 years, said today that "some reorganization" of the department is planned.

Dr. Marchus announced the promotion of Assistant County Superintendent Harold De Fraga, member of the staff for 12 years, to first assistant superintendent.

SECTION FOUR

No other immediate reassignment of staff is contemplated, he added. Like teachers and some other credentialed employees of school districts, the professional members of the county superintendent's staff are employed on the basis of a one-year contract, expiring June 30. There are currently 27.

MARCHUS expects the function of the department to change also. He said:

"Contra Costa County schools have grown to the point where they are providing for themselves many of the services once rendered by the county superintendent's office and are asking for new and different services.

"This transition, already begun during former County Superintendent B. O. Wilson's tenure, is accelerating, and the department must respond with changes.

Marchus, who served as research director in the county schools department for nine years, was elected November 4. His predecessor, Wilson, was not a candidate to succeed himself.

Church Council to Hold Annual Dinner, January 21

The Council of Churches of Central Contra Costa County will hold its annual dinner meeting in the Alamo Methodist Church on January 21 at 6:45 p.m.

Reservations for about 250 people have been made.

Rev. Dr. Forrest C. Weir, executive director of the Southern California Council of Churches, will deliver his address entitled, "The Scriptural Imperative that the Churches Work Together."

Before undertaking his present job in Southern California, Dr. Weir was executive director of State Councils of Churches in Mississippi and in Florida.

This Council of Churches is composed of four representatives from each of 27 participating churches.

The pastor of the church is always a representative, and there is a representative from the governing board of each church, someone representing the women's organizations of each church, and usually the director of youth activities representing the young people of the church.

An elected board of directors conducts the affairs of the Council between full meetings of all representatives.

The board of directors has proposed a budget of $17,500 for 1959, from which will be supported full time chaplains for the Juvenile Hall and the County Hospital, and a summer chaplaincy for Boy Scout Camp Wolfboro, in the high Sierras, up above Calaveras Big Trees.

This Council of Churches conducts Sunday School teacher training sessions each October.

On each of the Sunday evenings in last May it conducted a series of lectures on "Youth, Sex and Marriage," which was consistently attended by about 500 young people from the churches, and their youth leaders.

Other than the 27 local churches which are formal members of the Council there are almost twice that many non-member churches which participate from time to time in various of its undertakings.

Currently the Rev. Chauncey Blossom, pastor of the Orinda Community Congregational Church, is president of the Council of Churches, and of its board of directors.

Adult Program Still Has Room

The winter quarter of the Acalanes adult program got under way recently with 70 classes covering a wide variety of subjects. Many of these classes still have openings and, therefore, late registrations will be permitted, it was announced by A. D. Dambacher, director of the adult program.

For further information, interested persons are directed to call the adult office, YE 5-0170.

There is only one way to insure yourself of good bargains and good service: Shop at Home.

Cake Decorating Is Home Ec Topic On January 26

The Diablo Valley Home Economist in Homemaking class members will see "The Art of Cake Decorating" at their next meeting to be held January 25 at 10 a.m. in the Co-op meeting room on Geary Road.

The demonstration will be given by four of the members — Mrs. George Englebrecht, Mrs. Jack Steger, Mrs. Harvey Head and Mrs. Milton Giulieri. A sample of the decorated cakes will serve as refreshments for the morning affair.

Acalanes Grads Excel As Stanford Students

June, 1958, graduates from Acalanes High School rank fourth in numbers in the freshman class now attending Stanford University, according to a report released by Roxford Snyder, director of admissions at Stanford.

Acalanes Principal Stanley Walgren commenting on the report observed that "the number of students placed at Stanford by Acalanes High this year indicates that Acalanes students continue to meet the high academic entrance requirements set by the Palo Alto university."

According to the Stanford report, Acalanes supplied 14 of the 28 students from Contra Costa County who were accepted for the university's freshman class. Acalanes ranked fourth in the first nine schools listed in the United States as having contributed the largest number of entering students.

Four Acalanes June graduates, Gail Sorem, Anne Monroe, Mike McCardle and Ernest Fox, received Stanford scholarships.

"Although Acalanes is a medium-sized high school it has continued to place a large number of students annually at Stanford in competition with approximately 600 high schools throughout the State of California, many of which are twice the size of the Lafayette school," Walgren observed.

The Lafayette principal added, "the Acalanes faculty is encouraged to find the continued trend of so large a group of students meeting academic entrance requirements, and encouraged as well by the evidence that these students maintain high academic averages at the university."

Man Of Year Fete

The Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the Orinda Man of the Year banquet, to be held January 28 at the Orinda Willows.

Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m., and dinner at 7:30.

Committeemen are George Krusi, Tom Hayes and Harry Fledderman. Tickets are $4.

Sun Publisher Herman Silverman will present the 1958 Sun Man of the Year Perc Brown.

Youth Concerts Drive to Continue Next Week

The drive for the sale of season tickets for the Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts has moved into its second week. The drive began January 5 and will continue through next Friday.

The concert series, designed for the entire family will begin January 25 with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Next will be "The Marriage of Figaro", a Mozart Comic Opera, presented by Berkeley's Company of the Golden Hind, on March 1.

The famous Roger Wagner Chorale, with the duo pianists, Stecher and Horowitz, will come for the third concert which will be April 5. As a bonus concert to season ticket holders, the Sixth Army Concert Band will play on April 19.

Tickets for the concert series may be obtained through the following area chairmen: Mrs. George Gessling, 1620 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Myron Reynolds, 902 Escondido Court, Alamo; Mrs. George Reed, 205 El Dorado Avenue, Danville; Mrs. Oscar Busch, 910 Carl Avenue, Lafayette; Mrs. Alfred Albeitz of 1922 Esperenza, Concord; or Mrs. Warren Kaeding, 1681 Georgia Drive, Concord; Mrs. Kenneth Heiges, 8 Sunset Lane, Pleasant Hill, and Mrs. Frank Biasca, 1130 Harbor View Drive, Martinez.

The concerts are held on Sunday afternoons at 2:30 at the Las Lomas High School auditorium.

Tickets are $3.50 per season ticket for child or adult. No single admissions are sold.

Sunday Diners Say 'Let's Go to Paul's Place'

By THE DINER

SUNDAY EVENING diners are once more joining in a rising chorus of "Let's go to Paul's" where the increase in Sunday dinner trade is following on the heels of a successful holiday season.

PAUL'S OF MARTINEZ is a fine, old Italian dinner house which has retained its popularity with diners through 28 years of serving Bay area folks who find the quiet, Sunday dinner atmosphere ideal.

MIXOLOGIST Mel Matson of Walnut Creek has joined forces with Karl Lombardi who has presided over the bar for the past 15 years at Paul's.

AN IDEAL SPOT for banquets, Paul's will play host to a group from U.S. Steel of Pittsburg and also Brookside Hospital employees Saturday night.

LARRY BLAKE is currently adding a personal touch to his "Cooking with a Character" at the well known Gaslight House in Walnut Creek. The popular restaurant operator and new chef at the Gaslight can look back on 32 years of experience with the culinary arts.

IF THE EXCELLENT dinner fare and delightful gaslight era atmosphere are reminiscent to diners of the famous Delmonico's in New York, it is because Chef Blake worked closely for a time with Charles Ranshoffer, Delmonico's executive chef.

THE GASLIGHT is now open Monday nights, Sunday afternoons at 2 p.m. and Saturday for the luncheon hour, according to Blake.

WAITER Howard Douglas who got off to a "barefaced" start in the mustache growing contest at the Gaslight is leading some 11 ambitious entries.

Cost to Teach Child Varies-- $262 - $1175

Along with the variety of Contra Costa County itself—cities vs. suburbia, "bedroom" communities vs. industrial centers—there are wide differences in the financial operation of its schools.

For example, Briones Valley, the county's sole remaining one-teacher school, last year expended $5878 on its five pupils, compared with Richmond City system's expenditure of $4,500,000 on 13,000.

Such variety is also responsible for the fact that educational costs per child range widely from district to district, particularly at the elementary school level.

County Superintendent Floyd Marchus said that the 1957-58 financial report by his office shows the $1175 it cost to educate each pupil at Briones Valley is more than quadruple the lowest cost per child, which was $262 expended by Pinole-Hercules Union District.

The county average for elementary schools was $533.

At other levels the spread in costs per capita is narrower. High school expenditures ranged from $472 in the Acalanes District to $624 in John Swett District. The county average was $489.

Unified districts costs, covering all grades from kindergarten through high school, averaged $379. The cost per pupil in each was: Antioch $444; Mt. Diablo, $353; and Pittsburg, $446.

Cost per student in the Contra Costa Junior College District was $547.

School to Help Young Retarded

The Las Trampas School, Inc. has been formed by a group of parents and interested persons, and it will be located at the former Helen S. Lucas School for Retarded Young People, Lafayette.

The school is located on Railroad Avenue, Lafayette. Expansion of the present facilities are planned.

Plans are being made to enroll about 30 young boys and girls of the area, and also a maximum of 10 day-pupils.

Board members include Edmund Barnett of Lafayette, Mrs. Jack Clopton of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Garrett Conklin of Walnut Creek, Donald Doyle of Lafayette, Mrs. E. W. Fuhr of Oakland, Harlan Lewis of Pleasant Hill and Cliff Silvan of Lafayette.

Clopton said, "This is a 'first' and a very difficult undertaking. However we are convinced that we can successfully maintain and operate a school that is desperately needed in our area.

"Our program will be designed to assist in every way possible the child who is mentally handicapped, to enrich his life and develop his capacities.

"WE ARE welcoming assistance from any interested individual or group to further our goals.

"All contributions or earnings received by the corporation will be used for improvement of the school's facilities.

"If you can volunteer your time for supervision or training, for swinging a paint brush or make a contribution of any kind, please contact us," Clopton said.

'Dimes' Appeal In Mail; Quick Reply is Desired

March of Dimes funds appeals, received in the mail by nearly 100,000 residents of Contra Costa County, can have vital bearing on the future welfare of victims of polio, arthritis and birth defects, it was pointed out by J. Nolan Stockton, County Chairman of the March of Dimes drive.

"Every resident of Contra Costa County should return his mailer, with contributions enclosed, at the earliest possible moment," Stockton said.

"To those who have already contributed, our since thanks; to those who have not, I urge prompt action for the safe of many unfortunate persons.

"Our war against disease and affliction is now on three fronts and we need every dime, every dollar that our people can give."

Stockton emphasized that polio is still a major problem of the March of Dimes. On the county level, he said, nearly 400 polio patients still require some form of aid; and that 18 new polio cases were reported in Contra Costa County last year.

Fourth 'Shot' Adds Protection, Says Dr. Blum

"How many polio injections are needed for good protection?" This is a question being asked of the Health Department every day, said Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer.

Three shots are a must for every person no matter what his age, said Dr. Blum. In order to clarify any misunderstanding concerning a fourth injection, Dr. Blum stated that a fourth injection given one year or more after the third injection may give some additional protection.

Any person who wishes to take the fourth injection should get it from his private physician.

It may also be secured from the Health Department Immunization Clinics for those who have difficulty obtaining it privately.

Five people in Contra Costa County had polio in a very mild form last year, after having had the vaccine. Yet 17 people, more than three times as many who had not been vaccinated, had polio. Two of these died.

Polio occurs at all ages. In this county last year, 11 persons who had polio were under 10 years of age, 6 were over 34 and 2 were over 50 years of age.

"Our primary objective", Dr. Blum said, "is to have everyone in Contra Costa County obtain a three injection series regardless of their age".

Senator Miller Will Speak at Wilson Dinner

Senator George Miller, Jr., will be the chief speaker at a testimonial dinner in honor of former County Superintendent of Schools B. O. Wilson at Diablo Country Club on February 12.

Others on the program, who will give brief testimonial addresses, will be County Assessor C. L. Dunklee and Antioch Unified District Superintendent Henry Spiess.

Mrs. Lucille Mauzy of Walnut Creek, chairman, said that tickets are being made available throughout the county for the convenience of those wishing to attend. The dinner is open to all interested persons.

The deadline for reservations is February 1, said Mrs. Mauzy.

Local Banking Group Adds Three Members

The January Board of Governors meeting for the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Institute of Banking was held on Monday at the new branch of the Bank of America, Alamo.

President Dave Crane welcomed three new members to the Board of Governors who are replacing board members who have been transferred and promoted to better positions in their respective banks.

The new members to the Board of Governors are Del Turner of the American Trust Company in Orinda, Bill Winsby of the American Trust Company in Pittsburg and Ray Becenchini of the Crocker-Anglo Bank in Walnut Creek.

The spring semester of the American Institute of Banking classes will start Monday at the Mt. Diablo Junior College, it was announced.

Plans will be discussed for the District 8 Convention of the American Institute of Banking that will be held in Antioch on June 25 with headquarters at the El Rio Motel. The Mt. Diablo Chapter will be host.

Employment Group Meets

The Unified Veterans Employment Conncil of Eastern Contra Costa County met in the Veterans Memorial Building, Concord, on Wednesday.

The purpose of this committee is to devise ways and means to assist qualified Veterans in finding work.

The success of such a program requires the cooperation of Veterans Organizations, Employers, Civic Organizations and officials, and any individuals interested in the welfare of the Veteran population, say council members.

Red Cross Has A Job for You!

The Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross is seeking volunteers among persons who know how to knit. There is a call for coat sweaters for hospitalized veterans.
